

1.3.2 Page composition

The content of a page is defined by a background colour and one or more layout objects. Each layout object is defined by an image and an optional mask.

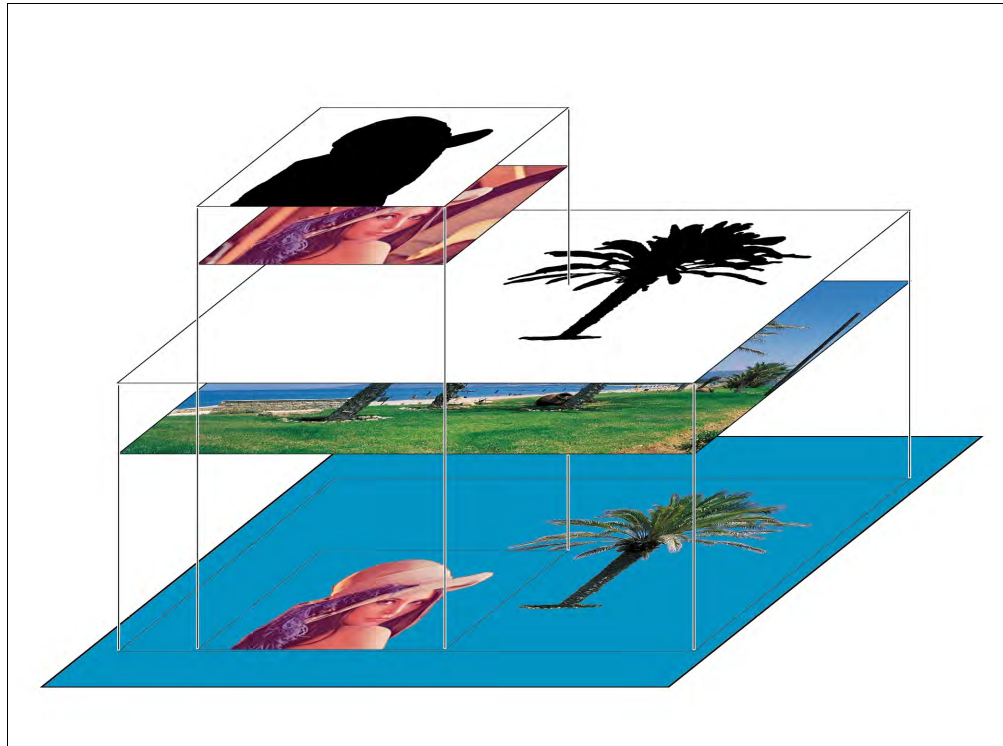

Figure : Page image composition of a page defined by a background colour and two masked images.