Changes in Check-in Procedures

The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) is moving secondary passenger searches from the gate to the security checkpoints. This means customers will need to have a boarding pass to get through security checkpoints. E-ticket receipts, paper tickets and itineraries will no longer provide access through the security checkpoints.

Travel Tips

Effective January 23, 2007, all U.S. citizens (including infants and children) will need a valid passport to travel to and from Bermuda, Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, and the Caribbean (excluding Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands). If any portion of your trip will take place after January 22, 2007, you will need a valid passport to re-enter the U.S. This policy also applies to foreign nationals of Canada, Bermuda and Mexico. Plan ahead and start the process to get your passport today.
