

A photograph of the Golden Gate Bridge, showing its iconic orange-red steel structure spanning a body of water. The bridge's towers and suspension cables are visible against a clear sky. In the background, there are green hills and a small sailboat on the water.

Golden Gate Bridge

- This is a picture of the Golden Gate Bridge
- It spans the San Francisco Bay.
- It's not really made of gold, but it painted orange, which sort of looks like gold.
