

User Account

Use a Windows user account, for example, `epmrapid_user`, that satisfies the following requirements. This account is referred to as the deployment account throughout this document:

- The deployment account is a member of the Administrators group on the server on which you are deploying this domain.
- The following local security policies are assigned to the deployment account either directly or by granting them to the Administrators group.
 - Act as part of the operating system
 - Bypass traverse checking
 - Log on as a batch job
 - Log on as a service
- User account control is disabled for the deployment account.
