Is there a way to automatically populate bookmarks and bookmark folders into Toolbar and Menu for a consistent view?

The separate grouping of bookmarks in Firefox into Toolbar, Menu, and Unsorted I have always found cumbersome to use and to manage. Looking for bookmarks often means I need to open up all of them to find a specific bookmark. I'm aware of the Show All Bookmarks option from the Bookmarks->Menu pull-down (but isn't in the Bookmarks Sidebar). I know how to copy bookmarks and bookmark folders etc. but it's cumbersome to do that each time I add a bookmark. And if I add a new bookmark folder, and want a consistent view I need to copy that folder to either Toolbar or Menu and copy new bookmarks to either Toolbar or Menu as well. Is there an Add-on or an option or other alternative that exists to provide this kind of capability? If not, perhaps a future feature addition to Firefox to optionally change the view presented under Bookmarks Toolbar and Bookmarks Menu so that they are consistent, and could be enabled through a new FireFox option "Change bookmark view to show merged Bookmarks Toolbar+Bookmarks Menu bookmarks and bookmark folders under both Toolbar and Menu"
Thanks a lot!
