Contrary to what we are being told by politicians about the NSW RFS having enough resources to do their important jobs properly, a view from behind the scenes tells a different story.

A Facebook post by the brother of a Braidwood firefighter has been gaining a lot of attention.

Lewin Hodgman posted on Facebook recently that he had witnessed a shortage among RFS volunteers of such basic items as proper boots.

As Lewin says: " This is in no way intended to be a criticism of the RFS who
