Excellent! You just finished the "Tab Switch" Study!

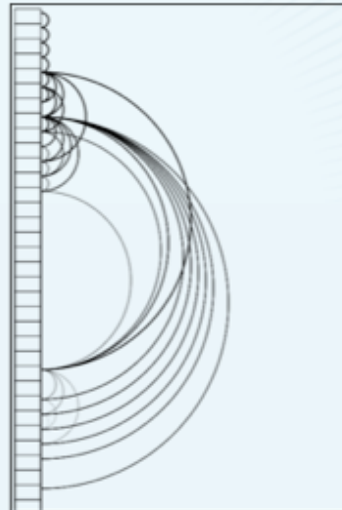

Please submit your test data.

 Submit your data »

View Your Data:

In the chart below, each rectangle represents a tab. The arcs represent switches between tabs. The thicker the arc line is, the more times you have switched between those two tabs. (The rectangles in this chart do not change even if you have closed or rearranged some of the tabs.)

Click here to see a display of all the collected data in its raw form, exactly as it will be sent.

Save Graphs

The study will end in 5 days. At the end of it, you will be prompted to choose whether you want to submit your test data or not. All test data you submit will be anonymized and will not be personally identifiable. We do not record any search terms or what sites you visit.
