

December 22, 2010

new firefox 4 betas for desktop and mobile

Firefox 4 is getting really close. Help us finish it faster by using the latest betas and giving feedback.

Get the Firefox 4 beta for desktop here and for mobile by searching the Android Marketplace for "firefox web browser".

Posted by asa at 1:38 PM reactions, thoughts, comments, etc.

I snap the QR code I get "404 error", I search "Firefox" I get a bunch of crap/ripoffs (you should really sort this out), I search for "firefox web browser" I consistently get no results.

I've already uninstalled beta 2, this is really frustrating now.

Posted by: Damian | December 22, 2010 2:22 PM

lol? what?

"I search for "firefox web browser" I consistently get no results."

<http://www.google.bs/search?q=firefox+web+browser>

Top 4 results are firefox.

The rest are about firefox.

There is 1 result that might be suspicious.

1 other result clearly states it's not about the browser then clearly states that they are big fans of the browser.

Damian, do you have a virus that doesn't want you to install a safer browser?

Posted by: thinsoldier | December 22, 2010 3:57 PM

Try the same search on android market place like the post is referring to --

Posted by: Damian | December 22, 2010 8:35 PM

<http://www.mozilla.com/en-US/mobile/>

Posted by: Ferdinand | December 22, 2010 10:03 PM

@Ferdinand

So it took several clicks on mobile-unfriendly sites with some links actually being quite hard to spot on a mobile just to get "your requested item was not found".

Now I could go on the mozilla ftp site, but really from a 'normal' users perspective this is awful.

Posted by: Damian | December 23, 2010 11:17 AM

I've got a Samsung Galaxy S i9000 (Europe version) , Android 2.1

searching for mozilla firefox, firefox, firefox web browser on the market never return firefox

Alternatively, I wen't with integrated android browser on firefox mobile site.

When I click on the android mobile download , a error message from mozilla web site appear(something like file not found, tried yesterday and today, same pb)

Can't try to download with firefox from the mobile as I uninstalled 4.ob2 following instructions from mozilla...

Downloading from mozilla web site worked well for firefox mobile 4.ob2 so it regressed.

I guess some link or redirection is missing on mozilla web site.

I just went to <ftp.mozilla.org> to download it directly on the mobile. It works this way.

It's great to have firefox on mobile.

Posted by: matp75 | December 24, 2010 6:48 AM

toradol recordati estrema et clomid ansia e dimagrimento acomplia retrait du marchΓ© allergia al cortisone sintomi sersrt allergia arance diabetes y esterilidad diete on line crestor risk wine diabetes

Posted by: AppessPak | December 31, 2010 6:09 AM

<http://www.guardian.co.uk/technology/blog/2011/jan/04/internet-explorer-falls-behind-firefox-europe>

thats a firest

Posted by: gabe | January 4, 2011 12:22 PM

Name:

Remember personal info?

☐ Yes☒ No

Email Address:

URL:

Comments:

Preview

Post

