Internet Policy Townhall

Policy makers around the world seek to regulate the Net, in some cases to the detriment of openness, innovation, users, and developers.

Recent work on Net Neutrality, SOPA and Do Not Track demonstrate that Mozilla can be an effective voice in key technology policy discussions in the US and abroad.

Join us for refreshments and a lively discussion on how we can continue to participate and affect policy decisions that impact the future of the Internet globally.

Note: Buses will return to the hotel at 6:30pm.
