

IDN – enabled TLDs

Further to the entry into effect of French law No. 2011-302 dated March 22, 2011, AFNIC has changed the eligibility criteria for obtaining a domain name under one of the extensions it manages (i.e. the .fr, .re, .pm, .tf, .wf and .yt TLDs). Since December 6, 2011, AFNIC has permitted the registration of domain names under these TLDs by any individual residing in the territory of the European Union, and by any legal entity whose head office or main plant is located in the territory of one of the Member States of the European Union.

In addition, to help cover the characters needed to write most of the languages spoken in Western Europe, including official national languages and many other regional or minority languages such as Basque, Breton, Catalan, Corsican, Occitan, or Picard and even cover certain foreign regional languages, AFNIC has decided to allow the registration of IDN domain names.

To enhance the visibility and reading of the aforementioned domain names, we would like the Mozilla browser to enable the display of IDN domain names under the extensions defined below.
