Agreement for Receipt and Use of Bugzilla Data

In exchange for receipt and right to use data from Mozilla's Bugzilla system, you agree to the following:

1) you will only use the data for purposes that benefit the public in some way and will not use the data for a purpose that harms users or violates any applicable laws;

2) you will not use the data to exploit or sell security flaws in any Mozilla product or potential product, and will disclose first to Mozilla any security flaws you do identify;

3) you will not attempt to identify the source of the data or otherwise seek to extract any personal information from the data, such as correlating the data with other non-Mozilla data sources or otherwise seeking to determine the names or other personal information of those whose data is provided to you;

4) You will not share or transfer the data to any third party. If you want to share the data with a collaborator, please have her/him contact Mozilla and sign this agreement first.

5) In the event you are acquired or cease operations or have a change of control, all your rights to the data cease.

6) Mozilla does not make any representations or warranties about the data and you receive it on an AS-IS basis and acknowledge that by its nature it contains bugs, viruses, and errors. Mozilla expressly disclaims any implied warranties of non-infringement, satisfactory quality, fitness for a particular purpose, and merchantability. The UN Convention on the International Sale of Goods is expressly disclaimed.

7) Mozilla's total aggregate liability under this agreement shall not exceed US$50.

8) No agency or other relationship is created by this agreement.

9) This Agreement shall be governed by California law without regard to its conflict of law provisions. In the event of a dispute related to this Agreement, you consent to the personal jurisdiction of California and agree not to bring an action against Mozilla except in the state and federal courts of California, USA.
