

In the address rows of the Message Compose window, an icon looking like a game piece is used for e-mail address entries:

The same icon is also used for newsgroup names:

This should be replaced by something different, e.g. the icon used for newsgroups in the folder list:

