Julie,

Don't adults who participate in the PACE program still live at home? This device was designed to provide older adults who have difficulty walking with assistance between visits from their home health care givers. Do you think any of your clients may be interested in trying a device like this in their home?

Julie, I hate to be the bearer of bad news but after having looked at your presentation, the director here, Jim Graham has asked that we reconsider our appointment. He is not willing to have you pilot cool quench at this time. I guess we can't be all things to all people. I'm so sorry. As we have only just opened and are still feeling our way in PACE Jim feels we would not be able to give your product the attention it deserves right now. You are welcome to still come look at the program. Please let me know if you'd like to cancel the appointment for 10th.

Best Regards

Julie
