Example

Here's an example which demonstrates pdftohtml's font size adjustment. The symptoms of the problem are that certain effects such as underlining and bold ~~strike-through~~ are misaligned, and occasional gaps in the text are present when a new section of text begins on the same line.

I believe the font shrinking comes from two lines of code: HTMLOutputDev.cc:124 and HTMLFonts.cc:118. Both lines subtract 1 from the font size, the former also truncates any fractional value.
