

Consumer Information

This chapter describes the requirements for the consumer information that a school must provide to students, the Department, and others as well as a summary of the effects of misrepresentation of school information on a school's FSA participation.

In addition to the disclosure of general information required under the consumer information regulations, there are specific disclosure and reporting requirements with which schools must comply.

Those requirements include —

- Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Campus Security/Clery Act) – requires an Annual Security Report disclosing a school's security policies and reporting of Crime Statistics;
- The Student Right-to-Know Act requires disclosure of information on Graduation, Completion, and Transfer-Out Rates; and the Graduation, Completion, and Transfer-Out Rates for Student Athletes at schools that award athletically related aid.
- Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act (EADA) – requires disclosure of Athletic Program Participation Rates and Financial Support Data.

Schools that participate in the Campus-Based programs must also comply with disclosure requirements for drug and alcohol abuse prevention. Although some of these disclosure requirements contain common elements, each disclosure is required separately (see the chart School Disclosure Requirements at the end of this chapter).

As part of the continuing effort to reduce the number of defaulted federal student loans, it is important to provide students with information necessary for choosing an appropriate academic program and for fully understanding the responsibility of loan repayment.

General information includes

Financial assistance information pursuant to 34 CFR 668.42, and Institutional information pursuant to 34 CFR 668.43

Civil penalty

In addition to limiting, suspending, or terminating the participation of any school that fails to comply with the consumer information requirements, the Department may impose civil fines of up to $27,500 for each violation.

In some cases a school is only required to make information available upon request, while in others the school must directly distribute the required information. You can find a chart summarizing the disclosure requirements at the end of this chapter.

Each year a school must provide to enrolled students a notice containing a list of the consumer information it must disseminate, and the procedures for obtaining this consumer information. Schools must provide this notice through a one-on-one distribution.

Schools must also provide a notice (though not an individual notice) of student rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

BASIC CONSUMER INFORMATION REQUIREMENTS

The regulations lists basic information about the school and about financial aid that must be available to enrolled and prospective students. If necessary, the information listed below must be provided by your school. However, much of the required information may already be available in brochures and handouts routinely disseminated by the school or in federal publications such as The Student Guide.

Financial aid information

At a minimum, the following information must be provided about financial assistance available at a school:

- the need-based and non-need-based federal financial aid that is available to students;
- the need-based and non-need-based state and local aid programs, school aid programs, and other private aid programs that are available;
- how students apply for aid and how eligibility is determined;
- how the school distributes aid among students;
- the rights and responsibilities of students receiving aid;
- how and when financial aid will be disbursed;
- the terms and conditions of any employment that is part of the financial aid package;
- the terms of, the schedules for, and the necessity of loan repayment and required loan exit counseling; and
- the criteria for measuring satisfactory academic progress, and how a student who has failed to maintain satisfactory progress may reestablish eligibility for federal financial aid.

General information about the school

The school must provide the following minimum information about itself:

- the names of associations, agencies, and/or governmental bodies that accredit, approve, or license the school and its programs, and the procedures by which a student may receive a copy for review of the school's accreditation, licensure, or approval;
- the special facilities and services available to disabled students;
- the costs of attending the school (tuition and fees, books and supplies, room and board, and applicable transportation costs, such as commuting) and any additional costs of the program in which the student is enrolled or has expressed an interest;
- a statement of the requirements for the return of FSA program funds when a student withdraws from school, information about any refund policy with which the school must comply, and the requirements for officially withdrawing from the school (For more information about the Return of Federal Student aid, see Appendix G – Overawards, Overpayments, and Withdrawal Calculations, chapter 2.);
- the degree programs, training, and other education offered;
- the availability of a GED program, if the school admits students who do not have a high school diploma or equivalent;
- the instructional, laboratory, and other physical plant facilities associated with the academic programs;
- a list of the faculty and other instructional personnel;
- whom to contact for information on student financial assistance and whom for general school issues;
- the terms and conditions under which students receiving federal education loans may obtain deferments; and
- information regarding the availability of FSA program funds for study abroad programs.

The school must have someone available during normal operating hours to help persons obtain consumer information. One full-time employee or several persons may be assigned so that someone is always available (with reasonable notice) to assist enrolled or prospective students and their families. Existing personnel may satisfy this requirement. A school may request a waiver of this requirement if it can demonstrate that a waiver is appropriate. A school should contact their School Participation Team for more information. (You can find a chart containing contact information for the School Eligibility channel at the end of chapter 12.)

A school must give applicants selected for verification a written statement explaining

1. Documents required for verification,
2. Student responsibilities – including correction procedures, deadlines for completing any actions required, and the consequences of missing the deadlines.
3. Notification methods – how your school will notify students if their awards change as a result of verification, and the time frame for such notification.

Consumer information from the Department

Sec. 485 of the HEA

CONSUMER INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT

The Department is required to make available to schools, lenders, and secondary schools descriptions of the FSA programs in order to assist students in gaining information through school sources, and to assist schools in carrying out the FSA program requirements. The Department does this through a variety of informational sources such as The Student Guide, this Handbook, and the Department’s Web page.

The Department, to the extent possible, will also do the following:

- compile and disseminate information describing state and other prepaid tuition and savings programs;
- make clear when ED’s Web products are displayed on a non-federal Web page, that ED is not endorsing that Web page;
- update its Internet site to include direct links to databases with information on public and private financial assistance programs that are accessible without charge, and without any implied or actual endorsement; and
- provide additional direct links to resources from which students may obtain information about fraudulent and deceptive financial aid practices.

STUDENT RIGHT-TO-KNOW DISCLOSURES

Student Right-to-Know disclosures must be made by July 1 of each year (see chart at the end of this chapter).

The Student Right-to-Know Act requires schools to disclose:

1. Completion or graduation rates and, if applicable, transfer-out rates for a specific cohort of the general student body. This cohort is of certificate- or degree-seeking, full-time, first-time undergraduate students.
2. For schools that offer athletically related student aid, completion or graduation rates and, if applicable, transfer-out rates of students receiving athletically related student aid, if the school offers athletic aid.

Schools must disseminate the information on completion or graduation and, if applicable, transfer-out rates to enrolled and prospective students upon request, through appropriate publications, mailings, or electronic media (for example, school catalogs or admissions literature). Schools are strongly encouraged to provide this information to other interested parties, such as guidance counselors, upon request.

The school must provide student athlete graduation rate information to potential student athletes, their parents, and their high school coaches and guidance counselors upon making an offer of athletic aid.

Schools must make available, to prospective students, no later than July 1, 2005, the rates for the cohort for which the 150% of the normal time for completion elapsed between September 1, 2003 and August 31, 2004.

Important: Schools should not confuse the requirements and methodologies for providing information to students and other consumers with the requirement for reporting similar information to the Department.

A school such as a community college is required to calculate and disclose its transfer-out rates only if it determines that its mission includes providing substantial preparation for its students to enroll in another eligible school (such as an eligible four-year school).

In addition to calculating the completion or graduation rates described above, a school may, but is not required to calculate:

1. A completion or graduation rate for students who transfer into the school;
2. A completion or graduation rate and transfer-out rate for the students described as exclusions to the requirements in this section.

Schools may exclude from all cohorts students who:

- have left school to serve in the armed forces,
 - have left school to serve on official church missions,
 - have left school to serve with a foreign aid service of the federal government, such as the Peace Corps,
 - are totally and permanently disabled; or
 - are deceased.
3. A transfer-out rate (required only if preparing students for transfer is part of the school's stated or implied mission).

Determining rate cite

34 CFR 668.45

Determining the cohort for completion or graduation and transfer-out rates

To calculate completion or graduation and transfer-out rates, a school must identify a group of students each year (a cohort) and review the performance of that cohort over time to determine the percentage of those students who complete their programs or transfer out of the school. The same snapshot approach is used to determine rates for both the general student body cohort and those rates related to students receiving athletically related student aid. The regulations specify that the cohorts a school must establish are based on how the school's programs are offered.

Standard-term schools

A school that offers most of its programs based on standard terms (semesters, trimesters, quarters) must use a fall cohort for these calculations. That is, the school must count all first-time freshmen who are certificate- or degree-seeking, full-time undergraduate students who first enter the school during the fall term.

The fall cohort

For a fall cohort, a student has entered the school if he or she enrolled for the fall term (or during the summer immediately preceding the fall term in which the student enrolled full time) and is still enrolled as of October 15, the end of the school's drop-add period for the fall term, or another official reporting date (in the fall) on which a school must report fall enrollment data to either the state, its board of trustees or governing board, or another external governing body. Does not include a student whose first enrollment was during a summer term that did not immediately precede the student's first full-time fall enrollment.

Nonstandard term or nonterm schools

A school that does not offer most of its programs based on standard terms must count all first-time students who are certificate- or degree-seeking, full-time undergraduate students who enter the school between September 1 of one year and August 31 of the following year. For programs less than or equal to one academic year in length, schools should include in the cohort only students who are enrolled for at least 15 days. For programs longer than one academic year, schools should include in the cohort only students who are enrolled for at least 30 days.

Schools may not include students who transfer into the school from another school as entering students for purposes of these calculations. However, if a school chooses, it may calculate as a separate supplemental rate, a completion rate for students who transfer into the school.

Definitions

The definitions of certificate- or degree-seeking students, first-time freshman students, and undergraduate students were adopted from the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) Graduation Rate Survey (GRS).

Athletically related student aid – any scholarship, grant, or other form of financial assistance, offered by a school, the terms of which require the recipient to participate in a program of intercollegiate athletics at the school. Other student aid, of which a student athlete simply happens to be the recipient, is not athletically related student aid.

Certificate- or degree-seeking student – a student enrolled in a course for credit who is recognized by the school as seeking a degree or certificate.

First-time undergraduate student – an entering undergraduate who has never attended an institution of higher education. Includes a student enrolled in the fall term who attended a postsecondary institution for the first time in the prior summer term, and a student who entered with advanced standing (college credit earned before graduation from high school).

Undergraduate students – students enrolled in a bachelor's degree program, an associate's degree program, or a vocational or technical program below the baccalaureate level.

Transfer/preparatory program – At least a two-year program that is acceptable for full credit toward a bachelor's degree and qualifies a student for admission into the third year of a bachelor's degree program.

Completer/Graduate – A student is counted as a completer or graduate if

- the student completed his or her program within 150% of the normal time for completion of the program, or
- the student has completed a transfer preparatory program within 150% of the normal time for completion of that program.

Schools must use the FSA definition of a full-time student that is found in the Student Assistance General Provisions regulations (See the Federal Student Aid Handbook, Volume 1 – Student Eligibility.)

A first time undergraduate does not include a student whose first enrollment was during a summer term that did not immediately precede the student's first full-time fall enrollment.

Preparatory program cite

34 CFR 668.8(b)(1)(ii)

Waivers cite

34 CFR 668.45(e)(1)

Normal time

Normal time is the amount of time necessary for a student to complete all requirements for a degree or certificate according to the school's catalog. This is typically –

- four years (8 semesters or trimesters, or 12 quarters, excluding summer terms) for a bachelor's degree in a standard term-based school,
- two years (4 semesters or trimesters, or 6 quarters, excluding summer terms) for an associate degree in a standard term-based school, and
- the scheduled times for certificate programs.

Transfer-out student

A student is counted as a transfer-out student if, within 150% of the normal time for completion of the program, the student has transferred out of the program and enrolled in any program of another eligible institution for which the prior program provides substantial preparation. A school is required to report only on those students that the school knows have transferred to another school. A school must document that the student actually transferred.

Waivers

The regulations provide for waiving the disclosure of completion or graduation rate and transfer-out rate calculations (to coaches and guidance counselors only) for the general student body cohort and for athletic data for any school that is a member of an athletic association or conference that has voluntarily published (or will publish) completion or graduation-rate data that the Department determines are substantially comparable to the data required by the regulations.

The NCAA may distribute graduation rate information to all secondary schools in the United States to satisfy the distribution requirements for prospective student athletes' guidance counselors and coaches. This does not relieve the school of its obligation to provide the information to the prospective student athletes and their parents.

The Department will continue to work with interested agencies to help them develop standards that meet these requirements. If in the future the Department determines that another agency's requirements meet the standards of the Student Right-to-Know Act, the Department will inform schools that those rates may be used to satisfy the Student Right-to-Know disclosure requirements.

Disclosing and reporting information on completion or graduation rates for the general student body cohort

The requirements for disclosing this information have been broken down into four steps: (1) determining the cohort, (2) calculating the rates, (3) disclosing the rates, and (4) reporting the rates to the Department via the Graduation Rate Survey.

Step 1: Determining the cohort

Schools must determine the cohort as described under Determining the Cohort for Completion or Graduation and Transfer-Out Rates to identify students in such a way that it can take a snapshot of those same students at a later time.

Step 2: Calculating the rates

Once a school has identified a cohort, it must determine when 150% of the normal time for completion of each program has elapsed for all of the students in the cohort. Then, it must determine how many of those students graduated or completed their program and, if applicable, how many transferred out of their program within that 150% period.

The following formula is used to calculate a completion rate for the general student body cohort.

$$\frac{\text{Number of students in cohort who completed their program within 150\% of normal time for completion}}{\text{Number of students in cohort (minus permitted exceptions)}}$$

The following formula is used to calculate a transfer-out rate for the general student body cohort.

$$\frac{\text{Number of students in cohort who transferred out of their program* within 150\% of the normal time for completion}}{\text{Number of students in cohort (minus permitted exceptions)}}$$ *to another eligible institution

Step 3: Disclosing the rates

The information on completion, graduation rates and, if applicable, transfer-out rates must be made available by the July 1 immediately following the 12-month period ending August 31 during which the expiration of 150% of normal time took place for the group of students on which the school bases its completion and transfer-out rate calculation.

Schools must disseminate the information on completion or graduation and, if applicable, transfer-out rates to enrolled and prospective students upon request, through appropriate publications, mailings, or electronic media (for example, school catalogs or admissions literature). Schools are strongly encouraged to provide this information to other interested parties, such as guidance counselors, upon request.

Step 4: Reporting the rates

The information must be reported to the Department by the Graduation Rate Survey (GRS) deadline.

EXAMPLE: Determining completion or graduation and transfer-out rates for the general student body

Step 1: Determining the cohort

Tower of London College (TLC) has both two-year and four-year degree programs. It operates on a semester basis, so it used a fall cohort.

During its 1998 fall semester, TLC had enrolled 1,000 full-time first-year freshmen in degree programs. It tagged those students as its 1998 cohort.

Step 2: Calculating the rates

In September of 2004 (after the 150% of normal time for completion of the four-year program elapsed), TLC searched its records to see how many of the 1,000 students in the cohort had completed a two-year degree as of August 31, 2001 (when 150% of normal time for completion of the two-year program elapsed). It found that 250 students had completed such a degree. It noted both the number and identity of those students. TLC noted the identity of the students so that it would be able to determine if any of the 250 students also obtained a four-year degree and must be treated as duplicates (see below).

It also found that 35 students from the cohort received a two-year degree between September 1, 2001 and August 31, 2004. TLC was unable to count these students as completors for Student Right-to-Know purposes, as they had completed the program after more than 150% of normal time for completion had elapsed; however, TLC chose to use this data as supplemental information.

Since TLC's mission includes substantial preparation for its students to enroll in another eligible institution, it also determined the number of transfer-out students in the two-year program by ascertaining the number of students in the cohort for which it had documents showing that the student had transferred to, and begun classes at, another eligible school. It found that it had documentation on 50 such students.

On August 31, 2004, 150% of the normal time for completion of the four-year program elapsed. In September of 2004, TLC determined how many of the 1,000 students had received a four-year degree as of August 31, 2004. It found that 450 students had done so.

Because TLC had identified the completors of the two-year program, it was able to determine that 10 of the students it had counted as two-year completors had also received a four-year degree. TLC is not permitted to count these students as completors twice, so instead it deducted the number from the number of two-year degree program completors (it could also have deducted them from the number of four-year completors had it so chosen).

TLC surveyed its records to determine the number of students from the cohort in the four-year program that it could document as having transferred as of August 31, 2004. It found 65 students had done so.

To determine if any of the students could be excluded from the cohort, TLC searched its records for documentation. The records showed that a total of 15 students in the original cohort had left the school for the express purpose of joining a church mission, the armed forces, or a foreign aid program sponsored by the federal government, had died, or become totally and permanently disabled.

TLC calculated its completion rate and transfer-out rate as follows:

$$\sqrt{450 \text{ four-year program completors} + (250 \text{ two-year program completors} - 10 \text{ duplicates}) = 690 \text{ completors}}$$

$$\sqrt{1,000 \text{ students in cohort} - 15 \text{ permitted exclusions} = 985}$$

$$\sqrt{\text{Completion rate} = 690 \div 985 = 70\%}$$

$$\sqrt{\text{Transfers} = 65 \text{ four-year program transfers} + 50 \text{ two-year transfers} = 115}$$

$$\sqrt{\text{Transfer-out rate} = 115 \div 985 = 11.7\%}$$

Step 3: Disclosing the rates

On July 1, 2005 (the July 1 following the expiration of 150% of normal time for the entire cohort), TLC published its graduation/completion rate and its transfer-out rate for the students who had entered in the fall of 1998.

TLC decided to provide separate, supplemental information regarding the completion and retention rates of its part-time students because it has a large part-time-student population. It also provided separate, supplemental information on the number of students who completed the two-year program after four years and after five years. It could have also provided separate, supplemental information on students who transferred into the school from another school had it so wished.

Reporting to parents

In cases of separation or divorce, if it is difficult to locate both parents, it is acceptable to provide the required information solely to the parent who acts as the student's guardian

Reporting information on completion or graduation rates for student athletes

Schools that participate in an FSA program and offer athletically related student aid must provide information on completion or graduation rates, transfer-out rates, if applicable, and other statistics for students who receive athletically related student aid to potential student athletes, and to their parents, high school coaches, and guidance counselors.

The definition of athletically related student aid used here and discussed earlier in this chapter is the same definition that is also used for the Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act (EADA) disclosure requirements. The definitions of certificate- or degree-seeking students, first-time undergraduate students, undergraduate students, and normal time are the same as those used for the calculation of completion or graduation and transfer-out rates for a school's general student body cohort (also discussed above).

In addition to the completion rates and transfer-out rates, schools must report

- the number of students, categorized by race and gender, who attended the school during the year prior to the submission of the report, and
- within each sport — the number of those attendees who received athletically related student aid, categorized by race and gender.

Step 1: Determining the cohort

A school must determine the cohort as described under Determining the Cohort for Completion or Graduation and Transfer-Out Rates.

Step 2: Calculating the rates for completion or graduation for student athletes

Schools that provide athletically related student aid must report three sets of completion rates and three transfer-out rates:

1. by race and gender — a completion or graduation rate and, if applicable, a transfer-out rate for the general student body;
2. a completion or graduation rate and, if applicable, a transfer-out rate for the members of the cohort who received athletically related student aid (this rate is calculated in the same manner as the rates for the general student body, but must be broken down by race and gender within each sport); and

In addition to the three sets of completion and transfer-out rates, schools must report –

- the number of students, categorized by race and gender, who attended the school during the year prior to the submission of the report; and
- within each sport – the number of those attendees who received athletically related student aid, categorized by race and gender.

3. the four-year average completion or graduation rate and, if applicable, the average transfer-out rate for the four most recent completing classes of the cohort categorized by race and gender for the general student population, and for race and gender within each sport. (A school that doesn't have data for four years should report an average completion rate for all the years for which it has data.)

Information that is required to be reported by sport must be broken down into the following categories:

- basketball,
- football,
- baseball,
- cross-country and track combined, and
- all other sports combined.

A school may also exclude from the athletic cohort the student exceptions specified under Student Right-to-Know Disclosures.

Step 3: Disclosing the rates for student athletes

A school must also provide the report to each prospective student athlete and his or her parents, coaches, and counselor when an offer of athletically related student aid is made to the prospective student athlete.

Schools are not required to provide completion rate information for students who entered before the 1996-97 academic year. However, if a school has data on students entering prior to the 1996-97 academic year (as the result of NCAA requirements, for example), the school should report these data in the four-year averages.

Schools that are not yet reporting completion or graduation rates or, if applicable, transfer-out rates because they do not have the necessary data must still disclose the additional data regarding the number of students who attended the previous year, categorized by race and gender, and the number who attended the previous year and who received athletically related student aid, categorized by race and gender within each sport.

There is a de minimus exception to the disclosure requirements for the completion or graduation rates or, if applicable, the transfer-out rates of student athletes. Schools with five or fewer student athletes need not disclose their rates.

GRS Deadline

Also applies to schools that don't offer athletically related student aid.

Equity in athletics cite

Sec.485(e) of the HEA
34 CFR 668.47

Reporting the rates for student athletes

The rates for student athletes must be completed and submitted to the Department together with other Student-Right-to-Know data by the Graduation Rate Survey (GRS) deadline.

Supplemental information

Schools may provide additional information to place their completion or transfer-out rates for both the general student body and those related to athletically related student aid in context. For example, a small school's completion rate may vary greatly from year to year because the school's calculations use a very small cohort. The school may wish to provide prior year's data and an explanation of factors affecting the completion rate.

EQUITY IN ATHLETICS

The EADA is designed to make prospective students aware of a school's commitment to providing equitable athletic opportunities for its men and women students.

Any coeducational institution of higher education that participates in an FSA program and has an intercollegiate athletic program must prepare an annual EADA report. The report contains participation rates, financial support, and other information on men's and women's intercollegiate athletic programs. Officially, it is The Report on Athletic Program Participation Rates and Financial Support Data. It is referred to as the EADA Report (34 CFR 668.47).

Disclosure of the report

The EADA requires schools to make this report available upon request to students, prospective students, and the public in easily accessible places. For example, a school may make copies of the report physically available in intercollegiate athletic offices, admissions offices, or libraries, or by providing a copy to every student in his or her electronic mailbox.

The EADA Report must be summarized, and its availability described in the one-on-one disclosure to all students and prospective students required of the school.

A school must provide the report promptly to anyone who requests the information. For example, a school may not refuse to provide a copy of the report to the news media, and the school may not require an individual requesting the information to come to the school to view the report. A school may not charge a fee for the information.

Reports must be compiled and made available each year by October 15. Schools must submit their Equity in Athletics reports to the Department annually within 15 days of making them available to students, prospective students, and the public. Using passwords supplied to their institutions' chief administrators, schools report EADA data to the Department online at

<http://surveys.ope.ed.gov/athletics>

Contents of the Equity in Athletics/EADA Report

A school must first designate its reporting year. A reporting year may be any consecutive 12-month period of time. For its designated reporting year, a school must report:

1. the number of male and female full-time undergraduate students that attended the school (undergraduate students are those who are consistently designated as such by the school);
2. the total amount of money spent on athletically related student aid (including the value of waivers of educational expenses aggregately) for: (a) men's teams and (b) women's teams;
3. the ratio of athletically related student aid awarded to male athletes to athletically related student aid awarded to female athletes (see the definition of athletically related student aid under Definitions);
4. the expenses incurred by the school for:
 - all sports,
 - football,
 - men's basketball,
 - women's basketball,
 - all other men's sports except football and basketball, and
 - all other women's sports except basketball

Expenses not attributable to a particular sport, such as general and administrative overhead, must be included only in the total expenses for all sports.

5. total recruiting expenses aggregately for (a) all men's teams and (b) all women's teams;
6. total annual revenues for – (a) all sports combined, (b) all men's teams, (c) all women's teams, (d) football, (e) men's basketball, (f) women's basketball, (g) all men's sports other than football and basketball, and (h) all women's sports other than basketball;

Additional information on the collection of EADA data will be posted, as it becomes available, on the Department's Web site at:

<http://www.ed.gov/finaid/prof/resources/athletics/eada.html>

The Department has to ensure that the individual school reports and a report to Congress are made available to the public within a reasonable period of time.

The Department is also required to notify secondary schools in all states regarding the availability of information in individual school reports and how such information may be accessed.

Alternative reporting

A school also may report those expenses on a per capita basis for each team and may report combined expenditures attributable to closely related teams, such as track and field or swimming and diving. Those combinations must be reported separately for men's and women's teams.

Coach's salary

If a coach had responsibility for more than one team and a school does not allocate that coach's salary by team, the school must divide the salary by the number of teams for which the coach had responsibility and allocate the salary among the teams on a basis consistent with the coach's responsibilities for the different teams.

7. in its total revenues and men's or women's combined revenues, as applicable – revenues not attributable to a particular sport such as untargeted alumni contributions to athletics, investment income, and student activities fees;
8. individually by team or by average –
 - a. the annual school salary of non-volunteer head coaches for all offered sports of (1) men's teams and (2) women's teams — this must include the number of persons and full-time equivalent positions used to calculate each average;
 - b. the annual school salary of non-volunteer assistant coaches for all offered sports of (1) men's teams and (2) women's teams. This must include the number of persons and full-time equivalent positions used to calculate each average;
9. a listing of the varsity teams that competed in intercollegiate athletic competition and for each team, the following data –
 - a. total number of participants as of the day of the first scheduled contest of the reporting year for the team, number of those who participated on more than one varsity team, and number of other varsity teams on which they participated;
 - b. total operating expenses (expenditures on lodging and meals, transportation, officials, uniforms, and equipment) attributable to the team;
 - c. whether the head coach was male or female, was assigned to the team on a full-time or part-time basis, and, if assigned on a part-time basis, whether the head coach was a full-time or part-time employee of the school (The school must consider graduate assistants and volunteers who served as head coaches to be head coaches for the purposes of this report.);
 - d. the number of assistant coaches who were male and the number of assistant coaches who were female, and, within each category, the number who were assigned to the team on a full-time or part-time basis, and, of those assigned on a part-time basis, the number who were full-time and part-time employees of the school (The school must consider graduate assistants and volunteers who served as head coaches to be head coaches for the purposes of this report.); and
 - e. an unduplicated head count of the individuals who were listed as participants on at least one varsity team, by gender.

Definitions

Expenses means expenses attributable to intercollegiate athletic activities. This includes appearance guarantees and options, athletically related student aid, contract services, equipment, fundraising activities, operating expenses, promotional activities, recruiting expenses, salaries and benefits, supplies, travel, and any other expenses attributable to intercollegiate athletic activities.

Recruiting expenses means all expenses a school incurs attributable to recruiting activities. This includes, but is not limited to, expenses for lodging, meals, telephone use, and transportation (including vehicles used for recruiting purposes) for both recruits and personnel engaged in recruiting, any other expenses for official and unofficial visits, and all other expenses related to recruiting.

Operating expenses means all expenses a school incurs attributable to home, away, and neutral-site intercollegiate athletic contests (commonly known as game-day expenses), for (a) lodging, meals, transportation, uniforms, and equipment for coaches, team members, support staff (including, but not limited to team managers and trainers), and others; and (b) officials.

School salary is all wages and bonuses a school pays a coach as compensation attributable to coaching.

Varsity team means a team that (a) is designated or defined by its school or an athletic association as a varsity team; or (b) primarily competes against other teams that are designated or defined by their institutions or athletic associations as varsity teams.

Participants on varsity teams include not only those athletes who take part in a scheduled contest but also any student who practices with the team and receives coaching as of the day of the first scheduled intercollegiate contest of the designated reporting year. This includes junior varsity team and freshmen team players if they are part of the overall varsity program. Schools should also include all students who receive athletically related student aid, including redshirts, injured student athletes, and fifth year team members who have already received a bachelor's degree.

Prospective student means an individual who has contacted an eligible institution requesting information concerning admission to that institution.

Direct Loan counseling materials

Direct Loan schools can order counseling materials by calling:

1-800-848-0978

Online counseling and print materials are also available online at the Direct Loan Web Site:

<http://lo-online.ed.gov>

Before a first-time FFEL, or Federal Direct Loan borrower takes out a loan, the school must ensure that entrance counseling is conducted – individually or in a group with other borrowers. Initial counseling must include: an explanation of the use of an MPN; the importance of the repayment obligation; a description of the consequences of default; providing sample repayment schedules; familiarization with a borrower’s rights and responsibilities as well as other terms and conditions. Loan (exit) counseling must also be provided before the borrower completes his or her course of study or otherwise leaves the school. There are similar requirements for the Perkins loan program (See the Federal Student Aid Handbook, Volume 6 – Campus-Based Programs).

Loan counseling is particularly important because new students often have little or no experience with repayment and managing debt. Your school must ensure that the student receives comprehensive entrance and exit counseling, even though the counseling may be given by a consultant, servicer, lender, or guarantor (usually on the Web), or online on the Direct Loan Web site. First-time Stafford borrowers must receive entrance counseling before the first disbursement of the loan, and all students who are graduating or withdrawing from school must receive exit counseling. If the counseling is given electronically, you’ll need to make sure that the student receives written counseling materials for any required information that is not provided in the electronic counseling presentation. Your school is also responsible for making knowledgeable staff available to answer student questions.

Here we cover the elements of entrance and exit counseling that are either required by regulation or recommended. However, there are many ways to deliver this information and to reinforce it through continuing contacts with your student borrowers. You have an opportunity at each disbursement to remind students about the importance of academic progress, planning for future employment, and staying in touch with the holder of the loan.

The Direct Loan Program and many FFEL guaranty agencies, lenders, and other organizations offer online counseling through the Web, videos, pamphlets, and other counseling materials. Your school may choose to rely on Web counseling services, if those services provide all of the information required by regulation.

If your staff are conducting in-person counseling sessions, charts, handouts, audiovisual materials, and question-and-answer sessions can help convey the information in a more dynamic manner. We also recommend the use of written tests. Moreover, the regulations require (for any form of counseling) that someone with expertise in the FSA programs be available shortly after the counseling to answer borrowers’ questions about those programs.

Regardless of the counseling methods your school uses, you must be sure to document that the student participated in and completed entrance and exit counseling. You can usually also get confirmation that the student has completed the online counseling session through a printout, electronic message, or other means.

The chart at the end of this section summarizes information to be covered as a part of entrance and exit counseling sessions. The arrows indicate those elements that must be covered in both entrance and exit counseling.

Entrance counseling

Before a first disbursement may be made to a first-time Stafford borrower, the student must receive entrance counseling that explains the loan obligation. The counseling must be conducted in person, by audiovisual presentation, or by interactive electronic means.

Required elements of entrance counseling

The Direct Loan and FFEL regulations require that certain information be included in entrance counseling. Some of this information is included in the Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities statement that must accompany the MPN, but you should review and elaborate on these points as a part of the counseling presentation.

- Reinforce the importance of repayment. The regulations also require that entrance counseling emphasize ... the seriousness and importance of the repayment obligation. The lender or Direct Loan Servicing Center (DLSC) sends payment coupons or billing statements as a convenience for the borrower. Not receiving them does not relieve the borrower of his or her obligation to make payments. (Direct Loan borrowers are encouraged to set up electronic debiting of a bank account to repay their loans—electronic debiting is also available through many FFEL lenders.)
- Describe the consequences of default. The regulations require that entrance counseling describe the likely consequences of default, including adverse credit reports, federal offset, and litigation. We also recommend that you tell the borrower of the charges that might be imposed for delinquency or default, such as the lender's or guarantor's collection expenses (including attorney's fees). Defaulters often find that repayment schedules for loans that have been accelerated are more stringent than the original repayment schedule. A defaulter is no longer eligible for any deferment provisions, even if he or she would otherwise qualify. Finally, a defaulter's federal and state tax refunds may be seized and wages garnished, and the borrower loses eligibility for any further funding from the FSA programs.

Counseling materials for overseas or correspondence students

Web-based counseling sites can be particularly useful for borrowers who are participating in off-campus programs such as a school's year-abroad program, correspondence study, and online programs.

If the borrower has not previously received a Stafford loan at that school, the school must document that the student has completed online entrance counseling that meets FSA requirements, or provide entrance counseling information by mail before releasing loan proceeds.

Counseling as part of a Default Management Plan

A school with a high default rate may be required to implement a Default Management Plan. The sample plan included in the FSA regulations mentions several steps that relate to loan counseling:

- Enhance the borrower's understanding of his or her loan repayment responsibilities through counseling and debt management activities.
- Enhance student loan repayments through counseling the borrower on loan repayment options and facilitating contact between the borrower and the data manager or FFEL Program lender.
- Keep statistics on the number of enrolled borrowers who received default prevention counseling services each fiscal year.

Cite Appendix B to Subpart M of 34 CFR 668

Alternative entrance counseling approaches

The Direct Loan regulations describe how a school may adopt alternative approaches as a part of its quality assurance plan — see 34 CFR 685.304(a)(4)

- Explain the use of the Master Promissory Note. If relevant at your school, explain the use of the multi-year feature of the MPN, and the borrower confirmation process. You should advise students to carefully read the MPN and the Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities statement before signing the MPN. In addition, you should inform borrowers of their right to sign a new promissory note for each loan and opt out of the multi-year feature of the MPN.
- Stress that repayment is required, regardless of educational outcome or subsequent employability. Entrance counseling information must explain that the student borrower is obligated to repay the full loan even if he or she doesn't finish the program, can't get a job after graduating, or is dissatisfied with the school's educational program or other services.
- Provide sample monthly repayment amounts. The student must receive sample monthly repayment amounts for different levels of indebtedness, or for the average indebtedness of Stafford borrowers at your school or in the same educational program at your school.

Other suggestions for entrance counseling

In addition to the required elements above, counselors often include some of the following information in their sessions. (Some of these items are included in an Appendix B to Subpart M of 34 CFR 668, as Default Reduction Strategies for schools that are required to adopt default management plans.)

- Review terms and conditions of the loan. As a part of entrance counseling, tell the borrower the current interest rate on his/her loan(s), the applicable grace period, and the approximate date the first installment payment will be due.

Often a student loan is the borrower's first experience in obtaining a loan of any kind, so it helps to clearly explain basic loan terminology to ensure that a borrower understands the process and knows who holds his/her loan. For instance, define terms such as loan servicer, the use of contractors to service the loan, and the process of selling loans to other lenders or to secondary markets. (A loan servicer is a corporation that administers and collects loan payments for the loan holder. A secondary market is a lender or a private or public agency that specializes in buying student loans.)

- Review repayment options. Explain that the exact repayment schedule will not be provided until loan repayment begins. Tell the student that certain fees (the origination fee and, for FFEL, an insurance fee) will be subtracted from the loan amount before the loan is disbursed but that repayment of the full loan amount is required. Review the availability of different repayment plans (standard, extended, graduated, income-sensitive/contingent), as well as loan consolidation. Stress that a borrower must make payments on his or her loans even if the borrower does not receive a payment booklet or a billing notice.
- Discuss how to manage expenses (budgeting). It would also be helpful to include general information for the student about budgeting of living expenses and personal financial management. Financial planning includes decisions by the borrower about the amount of student aid that he or she can afford to borrow. Budgeting information can be combined with an assessment of the student's earning potential in his or her chosen career, and with required information about anticipated monthly payments and overall indebtedness.
- Reinforce the importance of communicating change of status, etc. to the lender: The counseling should stress the student's obligation to keep the lender (or the Direct Loan Servicing Center) informed about address changes, or changes in enrollment. (Failure to tell the lender about their responsibility to notify the lender or the DLSC is one of the most common reasons why a loan goes into default.) The borrower should always know the most current name and address of the lender, the loan servicer, and the guarantor of the loan.

The student is required to inform the lender when he or she graduates, changes schools, drops below half time, or withdraws from school. The borrower also must tell the DLSC or the lender if his/her address changes (including changes in the permanent address while in school). The student should also be reminded of the importance of notifying the holder of the loan in the event of a name change (including the change of a last name through marriage) or a change in Social Security Number.

- Review deferments, forbearance, etc. The borrower should have a general understanding of the deferment, forbearance, and cancellation options, and how to apply for them. The counseling should stress that the borrower needs to contact the lender or DLSC if he or she is having difficulty in repaying the loan, as the lender or DLSC may be able to suggest options that would keep the loan out of default. Inform borrowers that information about deferments and forbearance is contained in their promissory notes.

Deferment, forbearance and cancellation options for the Direct Loan program are available at

<http://www.ed.gov/offices/OSFAP/DirectLoan/index.html>

For the FFEL program, lenders and guarantors provide participating schools with counseling materials.

In addition, general FFEL loan information can also be found on our Web site for students:

<http://studentaid.ed.gov>

You can find the Direct Loan Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities at

<http://www.ed.gov/offices/OSFAP/DirectLoan/mpn.html>

You can find the FFEL Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities with the FFEL MPN at

<http://www.ifap.ed.gov/dpcletters/GEN0207.html>

- Review Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities. The student must receive a statement of Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities with the MPN. This may be provided by the Direct Loan Program or the FFEL lender, but it's a good idea to review the information on the statement with the borrower to make sure that he or she is familiar with that information.
- Remind borrowers of the refund and other policies affecting withdrawals. The borrower should be aware of the school's academic progress policy and refund policy, and how the return of FSA funds will affect loan repayment.
- Reinforce the importance of keeping loan records. This would be a good time, if your school has the resources, to provide a student with a folder or other aids to encourage him or her to keep all financial aid materials in one place. The student should keep copies of all records relating to the loan, beginning with the Master Promissory Note and notices showing when the student received loan payments or his/her account was credited. The student should keep the loan repayment schedule provided by the lender or DLSC when repayment begins, as well as records of loan payments—including canceled checks and money order receipts. The student should keep copies of any requests for deferment or forbearance, or any other correspondence with the loan holder or DLSC.
- Reminder about exit counseling. Because many students leave school before the scheduled end of their academic programs, it's helpful to remind students during entrance counseling that they are obligated to attend exit counseling before they cease to be enrolled at least half time.

Exit counseling

Your school must ensure that students receive exit counseling before they leave school. Counseling may be provided in person, (individually or in groups), or using audiovisual materials. As with entrance counseling, exit counseling is offered on the Web by many guarantors, lenders, and by the Direct Loan Program.

Student borrowers should be advised to complete online exit counseling or sign up for a counseling session (if offered at your school) shortly before graduating or ceasing at least half-time enrollment. As with entrance counseling, knowledgeable financial aid staff at the school must be reasonably available to answer questions from student borrowers. One of a borrower's obligations is to participate in an exit counseling session.

Required elements of exit counseling

Some of the material presented at the entrance counseling session will again be presented during exit counseling. The emphasis for exit counseling shifts, however, to more specific information about loan repayment and debt-management strategies. The following information must be provided as a part of exit counseling:

- Review information from entrance counseling Several topics that were covered in entrance counseling must be reviewed during exit counseling: the consequences of default and the importance of the repayment obligation, the use of the Master Promissory Note, and the obligation to repay the loan even if the borrower drops out, doesn't get a job, or is otherwise dissatisfied with the quality of the school's educational programs and services.
- Provide an average anticipated monthly repayment amount. The borrower must be given an estimate of the average anticipated monthly payments based on his/her indebtedness (or on the average indebtedness of Stafford borrowers at your school, or in the same program at your school). We recommend giving the borrower a sample loan repayment schedule based on his/her total indebtedness. A loan repayment schedule usually will provide more information than just the expected monthly payment. For instance, it would show the varying monthly amounts expected in a graduated repayment plan.

Note that the lending organization is not required to send the repayment schedule to the borrower until the grace period. Direct Loan borrowers who use the Online Exit Counseling Session (www.dlsvc.ed.gov) can view repayment schedules based on their account balances (using their PIN numbers), select a repayment plan, and update demographic data.

Exit counseling for correspondence and study abroad students

As an alternative for correspondence programs, or study abroad programs that are approved by the U.S. school for credit, you may send the borrower written counseling materials within 30 days after the borrower completes the program, with a request that the borrower provide the contact and personal information that would ordinarily have been collected through the counseling process.

Staying in touch with the Direct Loan Servicer

If they keep their PIN numbers handy, Direct Loan borrowers can manage their loans online by going to:

<http://www.dlsonline.com/index.asp>

to check account balances, change address, estimate repayments, or print out forms (deferment, forbearance, electronic debit account).

Pros and Cons of Consolidation

A Consolidation Loan can lower the borrower's total monthly repayment and simplify loan repayment. Because the repayment period for the Consolidation Loan is often longer than for most Stafford Loans, the monthly payments may be lower. (On the other hand, the total interest that is paid over the longer repayment period is usually greater.) If the borrower has more than one loan, a Consolidation Loan simplifies repayment because there's only one lender and one monthly payment. Consolidation may also be an option for a borrower in default, if certain conditions are met.

The borrower should also be aware that some deferments and other benefits available with his/her current loans (especially Perkins) may be lost through consolidation.

In Direct Loans, a school may request that the Servicing Center send the repayment schedule information to the financial aid office 30, 60, or 90 days before the student completes the program. If the school chooses this option, it accepts the obligation to deliver this repayment information to the borrower either in the exit counseling session or by mailing it to the borrower.

- Review repayment options. The counseling must review the options for loan repayment, such as the standard, extended, graduated, and income-contingent/income-sensitive plans. The option of consolidating loans must also be discussed.

Both the Direct Loan Program and the FFEL Program offer Consolidation Loans. Direct Consolidation Loans are available from the U.S. Department of Education. FFEL Consolidation Loans are available from participating lenders such as banks, credit unions, and savings and loan associations.

- Discuss debt management strategies. A counselor should stress the importance of developing a realistic budget based on the student's minimum salary requirements. It's helpful to have the student compare these costs with the estimated monthly loan payments, and to emphasize that the loan payment is a fixed cost, like rent or utilities.
- Review forbearance, deferment, and cancellation options. The counseling should reinforce the availability of forbearance, deferment, and cancellation for certain situations, and emphasize that in most cases the borrower must start the process by applying to the lender or the DLSC.
- Tell the student about the availability of loan information on NSLDS and the availability of the FSA Ombudsman's office. The borrower's loan history can be viewed online at the Web site for the National Student Loan Data System (PIN required for access). Students without Internet access can identify their loan holder by calling 1-800-4-FED-AID.

However, the borrower should be aware that the information on the NSLDS site is updated by lenders and guarantors and may not be as current as the latest information from those loan holders.

The Ombudsman's office is a resource for borrowers when other approaches to resolving student loan problems have failed. Borrowers should first attempt to resolve complaints by contacting the school, company, agency, or office involved. If the borrower has made a reasonable effort to resolve the problem through normal processes and has not been successful, he or she should contact the FSA Ombudsman.

- Ensure that borrowers understand their rights and responsibilities (see the discussion under Entrance counseling earlier in this chapter).
- Collect and update personal and contact information. During exit counseling, an aid officer must obtain the borrower's expected permanent address after leaving school, the address of the borrower's next of kin, and the name and address of the borrower's expected employer (if known). A school must correct its records to reflect any changes in a borrower's name, address, Social Security Number, or references, and it must obtain the borrower's current driver's license number and state of issuance. Within 60 days after the exit interview, the financial aid office must provide this information to the guarantor (indicated in the borrower's student aid records), or the Direct Loan Servicing Center.

Further recommendations for exit counseling

It's a good idea to provide the student with the current name and address of the borrower's lender(s), based on the latest information that your school has. The counseling presentation might also explain to the student how to complete deferment forms and prepare correspondence to the lender. Emphasize that borrowers should always keep copies of all correspondence from and to them about their loans. Stress that a borrower must make payments on his or her loans even if the borrower does not receive a payment booklet or a billing notice.

Providing borrower information at separation

The personal and contact information collected at the time of exit counseling must be provided to the guaranty agency or Direct Loan Servicing Center within 60 days. A student authorizes his or her school to release information to lenders as part of the promissory note the student signs as part of the loan application process. No further permission is needed.

Exit counseling follow up

If the student borrower drops out without notifying your school, you must confirm that the student has completed online counseling, or mail exit counseling material to the borrower at his or her last known address. The material must be mailed within 30 days of your learning that a borrower has withdrawn or failed to participate in an exit counseling session.

If you're mailing these exit materials, you're not required to use certified mail with a return receipt requested, but you must document in the student's file that the materials were sent. If the student fails to provide the updated contact information, you are not required to take any further action.

Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities at a Direct Loan School

In the Exit Counseling report accessed by the school, a borrower might have a "paper" or an "electronic" submission recorded for the rights and responsibilities information. A paper submission is recorded when the borrower opts to print the checklist. Note that it remains the responsibility of the school to collect that information. However, if the report reflects an electronic submission, all of the necessary information was provided by the borrower during the online session.

Providing borrower information

A Direct Loan School should mail updated borrower information to

U.S. Department of Education
PO Box 5609
Greenville, TX 75403-5609

Checking completion of online exit counseling

Direct Loan schools can use the program's Web site to confirm which of their students have completed online exit counseling:

<http://www.dlsonline.com/index.asp>

Similar online counseling services are provided by guarantors in the FFEL program.

Entrance Counseling

Exit Counseling

Required Elements:

- Reinforce importance of repayment
- Describe consequences of default
- Explain use of the Master Promissory Note
- Stress that repayment is required regardless of educational outcome and subsequent employability
- Provide sample monthly repayment amounts for different amounts of debt, or for average debt of Stafford borrowers in same year at school or in same program

Other Suggestions for Counseling:

- Review the availability of state grant aid
- Review terms and conditions of the loan
- Review repayment options
- Discuss how to manage expenses (budgeting) while in school
- Reinforce importance of communicating change of status, etc., with the lender
- Review deferment, forbearance, cancellation options and procedures
- Review Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities
- Review refund and other policies affecting withdrawals from school
- Reinforce importance of keeping loan records
- Remind student of exit counseling requirement

Required Elements:

- Review these four elements from entrance counseling
 - Provide an average anticipated monthly repayment amount, based on borrower's indebtedness or for average debt of Stafford borrowers in same year at school or in same program
 - Review repayment options (standard repayment, extended, graduated, income-sensitive/contingent) and consolidation
 - Discuss debt management strategies that would facilitate repayment
 - Review forbearance, deferment, and cancellation options and procedures
- Tell the student about the availability of loan information through the NSLDS Web site, and the availability of the FSA Student Loan Ombudsman's Office
- Collect driver's license number and state of issuance, expected permanent address, address of next of kin, and name and address of employer (if known), and update any changes to student's personal information (name, social security number, etc.)

Other suggestions for counseling:

- Provide student with contact information for lender(s) and reinforce importance of communicating change of status, etc., with the lender
- Remind borrowers to keep copies of all correspondence about their loans

DRUG AND ALCOHOL ABUSE PREVENTION INFORMATION

A school that participates in the Campus-Based programs must provide information under the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 (Public Law 101-690), including a notice to its employees of unlawful activities and the actions the school will take against an employee who violates these prohibitions. In addition, the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act (Public Law 101-226) requires a school that participates in any FSA program to provide information to its students, faculty, and employees to prevent drug and alcohol abuse.

Information to be included in drug prevention materials

A school must provide the following in its materials:

- information on preventing drug and alcohol abuse;
- standards of conduct that clearly prohibit, at a minimum, the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of drugs and alcohol by students and employees on the school's property, or as part of the school's activities;
- a description of the sanctions under local, state, and federal law for unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol;
- a description of any drug and alcohol counseling, treatment, or rehabilitation programs available to students and employees;
- a description of the health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs and alcohol; and
- a clear statement that the school will impose sanctions on students and employees for violations of the standards of conduct (consistent with local, state, and federal law) and a description of these sanctions, up to and including expulsion, termination of employment, and referral for prosecution.

Distribution of materials to all students and employees

The school may include this information in publications such as student or employee handbooks, provided that these publications are distributed to each student and employee. Merely making drug prevention materials available to those who wish to take them is not sufficient. The school must use a method that will reach every student and employee, such as the method used to distribute grade reports or paychecks. The school must distribute these materials annually. If new students enroll or new employees are hired after the initial distribution for the year, the school must make sure that they also receive the materials. (For more information on anti-drug abuse requirements, see chapter 3.)

Prospective student

Any individual who has contacted an eligible institution for the purpose of requesting information about enrolling at the institution or who has been contacted directly by the institution or indirectly through general advertising about enrolling at the institution.

MISREPRESENTATION

Under the General Provisions regulations the Department may fine, limit, suspend, or terminate the participation of any school that substantially misrepresents the nature of its educational program, its financial charges, or the employability of its graduates.

Definition of misrepresentation

Misrepresentation is any false, erroneous, or misleading statement made to a student or prospective student, to the family of an enrolled or prospective student, or to the Department. This includes disseminating testimonials and endorsements given under duress.

Substantial Misrepresentation is any misrepresentation on which the person to whom it was made could reasonably be expected to rely, or has reasonably relied, to that person's detriment.

Misrepresentation of the educational program includes, among other things, false or misleading statements about the school's accreditation or the school's size, location, facilities, or equipment. Misrepresentation of financial charges includes, among other things, false or misleading statements about scholarships provided for the purpose of paying school charges. To be considered a scholarship, a grant must actually be used to reduce tuition charges made known to the student before the scholarship was offered to the student. (The tuition charges must be charges that are applied to all students whether or not they are receiving a scholarship.) It is also considered misrepresentation if the school gives false or misleading information as to whether a particular charge is a customary charge for that course at the school.

Misrepresentation includes making any false or misleading statements about the employability of the school's graduates.

The regulatory provisions concerning misrepresentation are given in detail below.

Nature of educational program

Misrepresentation by a school of the nature of its educational program includes, but is not limited to, false, erroneous, or misleading statements concerning:

- the particular types, specific sources, nature, and extent of its accreditation;
- whether a student may transfer course credits earned at the school to any other school;
- whether successful completion of a course of instruction qualifies a student for acceptance into a labor union or similar organization or receipt of a local, state, or federal license or a nongovernment certification required as a precondition for employment or to perform certain functions;
- whether its courses are recommended by vocational counselors, high schools, or employment agencies, or by governmental officials for government employment;
- its size, location, facilities, or equipment;
- the availability, frequency, and appropriateness of its courses and programs to the employment objectives that it states its programs are designed to meet;
- the nature, age, and availability of its training devices or equipment and their appropriateness to the employment objectives that it states its programs and courses are designed to meet;
- the number, availability, and qualifications, including the training and experience, of its faculty and other personnel;
- the availability of part-time employment or other forms of financial assistance;
- the nature and availability of any tutorial or specialized instruction, guidance and counseling, or other supplementary assistance it will provide its students before, during, or after the completion of a course;
- the nature and extent of any prerequisites established for enrollment in any course; or
- any matters required to be disclosed to prospective students under 34 CFR 668.43 (institutional information) and 34 CFR 668.46 (campus security information).

Misrepresenting educational program cite

34 CFR 668.72

Misrepresenting financial charges cite

34 CFR 668.73

Nature of financial charges

Misrepresentation by a school of the nature of its financial charges includes, but is not limited to, false, erroneous, or misleading statements concerning –

- offers of scholarships to pay all or part of a course charge, unless a scholarship is actually used to reduce tuition charges that are applied to all students whether or not receiving a scholarship and are made known to the student in advance; or
- whether a particular charge is the customary charge at the school for a course.

Employability of graduates

Misrepresentation by a school regarding the employability of its graduates includes, but is not limited to, false, erroneous, or misleading statements

- that the school is connected with any organization or is an employment agency or other agency providing authorized training leading directly to employment;
- that the school maintains a placement service for graduates or will otherwise secure or assist its graduates to obtain employment, unless it provides the student with a clear and accurate description of the extent and nature of this service or assistance; or
- concerning government job market statistics in relation to the potential placement of its graduates.

CAMPUS SECURITY

General information

The Department of Education is committed to assisting schools in providing a safe environment for students to learn and staff to work, and in keeping parents and students well informed about campus security. The department encourages schools to use the resources available on the following Web sites in making their campuses safer.

The Department is strongly committed to enforcing the provisions of the Campus Security/Cleary Act of 1990 requiring a school to compile and distribute an annual campus security report.

In its continuing effort to assist schools in fully complying with the Crime Awareness and Security Act of 1990, the Department has developed a The Handbook for Campus Crime Reporting. The handbook is available at

<http://www.ed.gov/admins/lead/safety/campus.html>

Distribution of the Campus Crime Report

By October 1 of each year, a school must publish and distribute its annual campus security report.

It must be distributed to all enrolled students and current employees directly by publications and mailings, including – direct mailing to each individual through the U.S. Postal Service, campus mail, or electronic mail.

Schools are required to submit a web-based statistical report to ED on an annual basis. The survey data is collected through the Department's Campus Crime and Security Web site surveys.ope.ed.gov/security

Important - Do not send your annual security report to ED.

The use of an electronic format eliminates mailing and processing paper questionnaires, significantly reduces the reporting burden, and improves the timeliness of the data from institutions.

If the school chooses to fulfill this requirement by posting the crime report on an Internet or Intranet Web site, an individual notice must be distributed to each student and current employee that includes:

- a statement of the report's availability,
- a list and brief description of the information contained in the report,
- the exact electronic address (URL) of the Internet or Intranet Web site at which the report is posted, and
- a statement saying the school will provide a paper copy upon request.

Upon request, a school must provide its annual campus security report to a prospective student or prospective employee. In order to ensure that a prospective student or employee can request the report, the school must provide them with notice of the report's availability. The notice must include a brief description of the report. If a student requests it, the school must provide a hard copy of the report.

Definition of campus

Institutions must meet the campus security report requirements individually for each separate campus. Institutions must provide crime statistics for three discrete categories: campus, non-campus buildings or property, and public property.

Campus means –

- any building or property (including residence halls) owned or controlled by a school within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area and used by the school in direct support of or in a manner related to its educational purposes.
- property within the same reasonably contiguous area that is owned by the school but controlled by another person, frequently used by students, and supports the school's purposes (such as a food or other retail vendor).

Non-campus building or property means –

- any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization officially recognized by the school; and
- any building or property (other than a branch campus) owned or controlled by the school, that is not within the same reasonable contiguous area, is used in direct support of or in relation to the school's educational purpose, and is frequently used by the students.

Definition of a campus cite

34 CFR 668.46(a)

Third-party housing

Whether the rent is paid to the third party by the school on behalf of the student or directly by the student, a student housing facility owned by a third party that has a contract with a school to provide housing for the institution's students is considered "under the control" of the school.

Public property means all public property including thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks, and parking facilities that is within the same campus or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus. This would not include, for example, highways that are adjacent to the campus, but that are separated from the campus by a fence or other man-made barrier.

A school may use a map to visually illustrate the areas included in the definition of its campus.

Timely warning

In addition to the required annual campus security report, schools are required to provide a timely warning to the campus community of any occurrences of the following crimes that are reported to campus security authorities or local police agencies and are considered to represent a serious or continuing threat to students and employees. These crimes are –

- criminal homicide including, (a) murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, and (b) negligent manslaughter;
- forcible and nonforcible sex offenses;
- robbery;
- aggravated assault;
- burglary;
- motor vehicle theft; and
- arson;
- separately by category of prejudice, each crime listed above and any other crime involving bodily injury reported to local police agencies or to a campus security authority that shows evidence of prejudice based on race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, or disability;
- arrests for violations of liquor and drug law violations, and illegal weapons possession; and
- persons not arrested but referred for campus disciplinary action for liquor, drug, and weapons law violations.

A school is not required to provide timely warning with respect to crimes reported to a pastoral or professional counselor as these positions are defined under 34 CFR 668.46(a), and discussed later in this chapter.

Note: A school must also include statistical and policy information related to these same crimes in its campus security report; see the discussion on Campus Security earlier in this chapter.

Complaints against schools

When a complaint is filed against a school alleging noncompliance with the campus security regulations, the Department will assess the complaint and determine the appropriate response.

Information about submitting reports of noncompliance is available at www.ed.gov/admins/lead/safety/campus.html

Technical assistance to schools in administering the campus security regulations is available from the Department's Customer Support Branch at 1-800-433-7327.

Campus security authority

The following are campus security authorities –

1. a campus police or security department;
2. any individual or individuals who have responsibility for campus security but who do not constitute a campus security or police department, such as an individual who is responsible for monitoring entrance into school property (e.g., an access monitor);
3. an individual or organization specified in a school's campus security statement as the individual or organization to which students and employees should report criminal offenses; and
4. an official of a school who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities including, but not limited to, student housing, student discipline, and campus judicial proceedings.

The definition of campus security authority includes others in addition to those individuals working for the school's campus security office or expressly performing a campus security function at the school's request. An official who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities is a campus security authority. For example, a dean of students who oversees student housing, a student center, or student extracurricular activities, has significant responsibility for student and campus activities. Similarly, a director of athletics, team coach, and faculty advisor to a student group also have significant responsibility for student and campus activities.

Professional and pastoral counselors excluded from reporting requirements

The act of reporting a statistic is not likely to identify a victim. However, the need to verify the occurrence of a crime and the need for additional information about a crime to avoid double counting can lead to the identification of the victim. Therefore, in order to ensure that victims have access to confidential counseling, professional and pastoral counselors, as defined in the regulations are not required to report crimes discussed with them in their roles as counselors when they are functioning within the scope of their license or certification. Other confidential reporting options are encouraged to obtain statistical data without infringing on an individual's expectation of confidentiality.

A pastoral counselor is a person who is associated with a religious order or denomination, who is recognized by that religious order or denomination as someone who provides confidential counseling, and is functioning within the scope of that recognition as a pastoral counselor.

A professional counselor is a person whose official responsibilities include providing mental health counseling to members of the school's community and who is functioning within the scope of his or her license or certification.

Daily crime log

Schools that maintain a campus police or security department must make, keep, and maintain daily logs of any crime reported to the campus police or security department, and any crime that occurs on campus, in a noncampus building or property, or public property (as defined by regulations) within the patrol jurisdiction of the campus police or security department. The logs must be written in a manner that is easily understood.

Note: Crime log entries include all crimes reported to the campus police or security department, not just Clery Act crimes.

For each crime, the school must record the date it was reported, the nature, date, time, and general location, and the disposition of the complaint, if known. Except where prohibited by law or when disclosure would jeopardize the confidentiality of the victim, the logs must be made public. Schools are required to update logs with new information when available, but no later than two business days after the information is received, unless the disclosure is prohibited by law or would jeopardize the confidentiality of the victim. The school must disclose any information withheld once the adverse effect is no longer likely to occur.

Often time passes between when a crime is committed and when it is discovered, making the date of occurrence unknown or uncertain. In addition, for statistical purposes, the FBI collects crime data based on when crimes are reported to the police. Therefore, a school must report crime data based on when the crime was reported to campus police or security authorities.

The school must make the crime log for the most recent 60-day period open to public inspection during normal business hours. The school must make any portion of the log older than 60 days available within two business days of a request for public inspection.

A school may withhold information if (and as long as) the release of the information would jeopardize an ongoing criminal investigation or the safety of an individual, cause a suspect to evade detection, or result in the destruction of evidence. A school may withhold only the information that would cause the aforementioned adverse effects.

Crime log vs. Annual Security Report

The crime log contains records only of incidents reported to the campus police or security department. The annual security report contains records of incidents reported to any campus security authority — a much broader designation.

The annual security report

The annual security report, due October 1, must contain the required crime statistics for the three calendar years preceding the year in which the report is disclosed. The crime report due October 1, 2005, must include statistics for the 2002, 2003, and 2004 calendar years. Schools must retain records used to create their campus security reports for three years after the due date of the report. Therefore, schools must maintain the information (data from 2002, 2003, and 2004) used in compiling the 2005 report, and make the report available through September 30, 2008. Crimes must be reported for the calendar year in which the crime was reported to a campus security authority rather than the year in which the crime occurred.

Policies and procedures for reporting crimes

The annual security report provides information regarding campus security policies and campus crime statistics. With limited exceptions, the campus security requirements do not prescribe policies and procedures for schools to follow. Rather, schools are required to make disclosures concerning the policies and procedures implemented by the school.

All schools must compile the required crime statistics in accordance with the definitions used in the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) system, Hate Crime Data Collection Guidelines and the Training Guide for Hate Crime Collection. For further guidance concerning the application of definitions and classification of crimes a school must use either the UCR Reporting Handbook or the UCR Reporting Handbook: NIBRS Edition depending on the crime.

Except when determining how to report crimes committed in a multiple offense situation, a school must use the hierarchy rule found in the UCR Reporting Handbook. Schools are encouraged but not required to participate in the FBI's UCR program.

The statistics required in the annual security report may not include the identification of the victim or the person accused of committing the crime.

A school must make a reasonable, good faith effort to obtain the required statistics and may rely on the information supplied by a local or state police agency. A school making a good faith effort will not be held responsible for the failure of local and state police agencies to supply the required statistics.

The annual security report must include the following:

1. the required school crime statistics, including:
 - a. criminal homicide, including (1) murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, and (2) negligent manslaughter;
 - b. sex offenses, including (1) forcible sex offenses, and (2) nonforcible sex offenses;
 - c. robbery;
 - d. aggravated assault;
 - e. burglary;
 - f. motor vehicle theft;
 - g. arson;
 - h. separately by category of prejudice, each crime listed above and any other crime involving bodily injury reported to local police agencies or to a campus security authority that shows evidence of prejudice based on race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, or disability;
 - i. arrests for violations of liquor and drug law violations, and illegal weapons possession; and
 - j. persons not arrested but referred for campus disciplinary action for liquor, drug, and weapons law violations.

Schools must report crime statistics by means of separate categories:

- on campuses (see Definition of a campus);

Note: Crimes that occur in dormitories or other residential facilities for students are reported as a subset of crimes on campus and as a separate category.

- in or on a noncampus building or property;
- on public property; and
- dormitories or other residential facilities for students on campus.

The category of manslaughter

The category of manslaughter, broken into two subcategories, nonnegligent and negligent manslaughter. "Murder and nonnegligent manslaughter" is the willful (nonnegligent) killing of one human being by another. "Manslaughter by negligence" is the killing of another person through gross negligence. Collectively the two categories are referred to as "criminal homicide" consistent with the FBI's definitions.

Arson defined

"Arson" is any willful or malicious burning or attempt to burn, with or without intent to defraud, a dwelling, house, public building, motor vehicle or aircraft, personal property of another, etc.

Liquor law, drug, and weapons violations

The period for which liquor law, drug law and weapons possession violations must be reported has changed from the most recent year to the most recent three years. In addition, the school must disclose not only the number of arrests for these crimes but also the unduplicated number of persons who were referred for campus disciplinary action for these activities.

Institutions should not include students referred for campus disciplinary action for alcohol, drug, and weapons possession unless those violations were also violations of law. For example, if a student of legal drinking age in the state where the school is located violates the institution's dry campus policy and is referred for disciplinary action, that statistic should not be included in the institution's crime statistics. If a student was both arrested and referred for campus disciplinary action for the same violation, the new regulations require that the school report the statistic only under arrests.

2. a statement of current campus policies regarding procedures for reporting crimes and other emergencies occurring on campus and the policies for the school's response to these reports, including:
 - a. policies for making timely reports of the above described crimes to members of the campus community;
 - b. policies for preparing the annual disclosure of crime statistics; and
 - c. a list of the titles of each person or organization to whom the criminal offenses described above should be reported for the purpose of making timely warning reports and the annual statistical disclosure.

This statement must also describe any school policies or procedures that allow voluntary or confidential reports made by victims or witnesses to be included in the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

3. a statement of the school's policies concerning the security of, and access to, all campus facilities, including residences, and security considerations used in the maintenance of campus facilities,
4. a statement of the school's policies concerning campus law enforcement, including
 - a. the enforcement authority of campus security personnel, their working relationship with state and local police and other law enforcement agencies, and whether the security personnel have the authority to arrest individuals; and
 - b. policies that encourage accurate and prompt reporting of crimes to campus police and the appropriate police agencies; and
 - c. procedures that encourage pastoral counselors and professional counselors, if and when they deem it appropriate, to inform their clients of any procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics.
5. descriptions of the type and frequency of programs that
 - a. inform students and employees about campus security procedures and practices; and
 - b. encourage students and employees to be responsible for their own security and the security of others.

6. a description of school crime prevention programs;
7. a statement of the policies concerning the monitoring and recording (through local police agencies) of criminal activity at off-campus locations of student organizations officially recognized by the school, including student organizations with off-campus housing facilities (see the Definition of a campus);
8. the policies concerning the possession, use, and sale of alcoholic beverages, including the enforcement of state underage drinking laws;
9. a statement of school policies concerning the possession, use, and sale of illegal drugs including the enforcement of state and federal drug laws;
10. a description of the drug and alcohol-abuse education programs available to students and employees, as required under section 120(a) through (d) of the Higher Education Act;
11. a statement of the sexual assault prevention programs available and the procedures to be followed when a sex offense occurs, including:
 - a. a description of educational programs to promote the awareness of rape, acquaintance rape, and other forcible and nonforcible sex offenses;
 - b. procedures a student should follow if a sex offense occurs (whom to contact, how to contact them, the importance of preserving evidence for proof of a criminal offense, and to whom to report);
 - c. options for the notification of local law enforcement officials (including on-campus and local police) and a statement that school personnel will assist the student in notifying these authorities, if requested by the student;
 - d. availability of on- and off-campus counseling, mental health, or other student services for victims of sex offenses;
 - e. notice to students that the school will change a victim's academic and living situations after the alleged sex offense and of the options for changes, if changes are requested by the victim and are reasonably available;

- f. procedures for campus disciplinary actions in cases of an alleged sex offense, including a clear statement that both the accuser and the accused
 - are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during a disciplinary proceeding;
 - will be informed of the school's final determination of any school disciplinary proceeding with respect to the alleged sex offense and any sanction that is imposed against the accused;
- g. sanctions the school may impose following a final determination of a school disciplinary proceeding regarding rape, acquaintance rape, or other forcible or nonforcible sex offenses; and
- h. a statement advising the campus community where to find law enforcement agency information concerning registered sex offenders who might be present on campus.

CAMPUS SECURITY AND THE FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

The provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) do not prohibit a school from complying with the campus security regulations. First, FERPA does not generally prohibit the disclosure of statistical, non-personally identifiable information. Second, as a matter of law, FERPA does not preclude a school's compliance with the timely warning requirement. The Department has concluded that as a later enacted, more specific statute, the Campus Security/Clery Act takes precedence over FERPA's requirements against the release of personally identifiable information from a student's education record. Thus, institutions may make a timely warning report to the campus community on criminal activity, and even if the school discloses the identity of an individual, the school has not violated the requirements of FERPA.

Records created and maintained by a campus law enforcement unit for a law enforcement purpose are not education records and may be disclosed without a student's consent. In contrast, records of a disciplinary action or proceeding, even if maintained by a campus law enforcement unit, are considered education records of a student, and cannot be made available to the public without the consent of the student or under one of the exceptions to FERPA's general prior consent rule.

FERPA does allow a postsecondary school to disclose the final results of disciplinary proceedings under the following circumstances:

- to anyone, if the violation was a crime of violence or a nonforcible sexual offense, and the school concludes that a violation of the institution's rules or policies did occur; and
- to a victim of a crime of violence or a nonforcible sexual offense, when the proceedings were in reference to that crime, the school may disclose the results of the proceedings, regardless of whether the school concluded that a violation was committed.

The offenses to which this permissible disclosure applies are listed in the FERPA regulations (34 CFR 99.39).

A school is not relieved of compliance with the reporting requirements of the campus security regulations when the school refers a matter to a disciplinary committee, rather than to the school's law enforcement unit or directly to the local authorities.

A school cannot require a student to execute a non-disclosure agreement as a precondition to accessing judicial proceeding outcomes and sanction information under the Clery Act.

HELP PREVENT FINANCIAL AID/ SCHOLARSHIP FRAUD

Every year, millions of high school graduates seek creative ways to finance the markedly rising costs of a college education. In the process, they sometimes fall prey to scholarship and financial aid scams. On November 5, 2000, Congress passed the College Scholarship Fraud Prevention Act of 2000 (CSFPA). This CSFPA enhances protection against fraud in student financial assistance by establishing stricter sentencing guidelines for criminal financial aid fraud. It also charged the Department, working in conjunction with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), with implementing national awareness activities, including a scholarship fraud awareness site on the ED website.

You can help prevent financial aid/scholarship fraud by, in your consumer information, alerting students to the existence of financial aid fraud, informing students and their parents of telltale pitch lines used by fraud perpetrators, and by providing appropriate contact information.

According to the FTC, perpetrators of financial aid fraud often use these telltale lines –

- ◆ The scholarship is guaranteed or your money back.
- ◆ You can't get this information anywhere else.
- ◆ I just need your credit card or bank account number to hold this scholarship.
- ◆ We'll do all the work.
- ◆ The scholarship will cost some money.
- ◆ You've been selected by a 'national foundation' to receive a scholarship" or "You're a finalist," in a contest you never entered.

To file a complaint, or for free information, students or parents should call
