Special Invitation

In the year 2003, the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service (Service) celebrates the Centennial of the National Wildlife Refuge System (NWRS). We hope this will serve as an invitation to you and your students to learn about wildlife refuges, many of which serve as staging and breeding areas or wintering grounds for migratory waterfowl. The NWRS comprises more than 93 million acres of Federal land managed by the Service in more than 530 individual refuges and thousands of Waterfowl Production Areas located in all 50 states and the U.S. Territories. Chances are there is a refuge near you.

A teacher packet is included in this mailing which is designed to introduce the concept of the refuge system to your students while at the same time teach about waterfowl. It will guide you in preparing your students for participation in this year's Junior Duck Stamp Competition. Celebrate with us and become eligible to win a trip to the National Junior Duck Stamp Competition. Contact your state coordinator for more information.

first Refuge Manager.*

Conservation through the Arts...

The Federal Junior Duck Stamp Conservation and Design Program is an integrated art and science curriculum developed to teach environmental science and habitat conservation. It has been designed to fit in with existing programs in these areas and conform to state and national curricular standards. The Program incorporates scientific and wildlife management principles and crosses cultural, ethnic, social and geographic barriers to teach a greater awareness of our Nation's natural resources. This pairing of subject areas allows students to learn about conserving the habitat while they explore the aesthetic qualities of wildlife and nature. Concentrating on waterfowl and wetlands gives students an opportunity to experience the beauty and diversity of wildlife at the same time they discover the interdependence found in nature. The Junior Duck curriculum demonstrates that wetlands are not only nature's filter system, but the barometer of our environmental health. Hundreds of other plants and animals depend on this habitat for their survival. Free curriculum guides can be requested by calling 703/358 2000 or by downloading them from our website: duckstamps.fws.gov

A Junior Duck Stamp design is a "term paper" in which students use visual rather than verbal articulation to show what they have learned. Participants select a species of North American waterfowl (in the case of the U.S. Territories, species will be those that naturally occur in the Territories), do research on this species and its habitat, then depict the waterfowl in an artistic medium.

In 1994 funding for this unique program was appropriated through the Junior Duck Stamp Conservation and Design Program Act authorized by the 103rd Congress. In 2000 the program was reauthorized through 2005 by the 106th Congress, thereby showing the importance the Members of Congress placed on preparing our youth for the conservation issues of the 21st Century.

The Junior Duck Stamp Program has many benefits. It introduces school age children to an important and fragile part of the natural world. It instills a sense of individual responsibility in the maintenance of our environment. And it benefits waterfowl and their habitats as well as all migratory birds and hundreds of plants and animals that share wetland habitats.

Junior Duck Stamp Design Contest Entry Requirements

Entries must be postmarked by midnight, March 15, 2003 and addressed to your state's receiving site. The exceptions to the March 15th deadline are: South Carolina's deadline is January 30, 2003 and Florida's deadline is February 21, 2003. Do not send art to the national office in Washington, DC.

Permitted Species: Entries are limited to the following North American species (except for entries from the U.S. Territories; they may include species of waterfowl that naturally occur in the specific territory): Tundra Swan, Trumpeter Swan, Greater White-fronted Goose, Snow Goose, Ross Goose, Brant, Canada Goose, Emperor Goose, Fulvous Whistling Duck, Black-bellied Whistling Duck, Wood Duck, Green-winged Teal, Blue-winged Teal, Cinnamon Teal, Mottled Duck, Northern Pintail, Gadwall, American Black Duck, Mallard, Northern Shoveler, American Wigeon, Canvas Back, Redhead, Ring-necked Duck, Greater Scaup, Lesser Scaup, Common Eider, Spectacled Eider, King Eider, Steller's Eider, Harlequin Duck, Oldsquaw, Black Scoter, Surf Scoter, White-winged Scoter, Common Goldeneye, Barrow's Goldeneye, Bufflehead, Hooded Merganser, Common Merganser, Red-breasted Merganser, Ruddy Duck, Hawaiian Species: Koloa, Nene Goose, Laysan Duck. Mute Swans and Loons are not permitted.

Official entry form must be completed, names printed and signed, and glued on the back of each entry. Only one entry per student.

Entries must be horizontal and must be 9" x 12". Entries may not exceed 1/4" in total thickness. If size requirements are not met, entries may be disqualified. Entries may not be sent in with a mat, glass, frame, fixed cover sheet or border (chalk and pastel entries must be sprayed with a fixative). Do not make the design look like a stamp. A loose cover sheet may be laid over the art face to protect it during shipping. No lettering, signatures or initials may appear on the front of the design. To do so will result in disqualification.

Design entry must be contestant's original, hand done creation and may not be traced from photographs or other artists' published works. Photographs taken by the student may be used as reference in the development of the design. Computers or other mechanical devices may not be used in creating the art. Air brush is allowed.

K-12 students attending public, private, or home schools in the United States and the U.S. Territories are eligible to enter, so long as they are U.S. citizens, resident aliens, or nationals. Any person who has won First Place in the National Junior Duck Stamp Contest during the preceding year may not submit an entry in the current year's contest.

Awards

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is pleased to announce new awards for First, Second and Third Place National Winners. First Place National Winner receives a $4000 cash award and a free trip to Washington, DC in the fall to attend the (adult) Federal Duck Stamp Contest, along with his/her art teacher, one of his/her parents, and his/her state coordinator. The national first place winning design is used to produce the Federal Junior Duck Stamp. The Second Place Winner receives a $2,000 cash award; and the Third Place Winner receives a $1,000 cash award.

In each grade group (K-3rd, 4th-6th, 7th-9th, and 10th-12th), three first place, three second place, three third place, and sixteen honorable mention ribbons are awarded (25 ribbons per group x 4 groups = 100 ribbons). The state Best of Show is selected from among the 12 first place winning designs and will compete in the national competition in Washington, DC.

State recognition and prizes will vary depending on corporate and local sponsorship. All students entering their state's contest will receive a Certificate of Participation.

All National and State winning designs will be displayed during the year and returned to the students the following spring.

Liability

The U.S. Department of the Interior, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service:

Will not insure the entries it receives or be responsible for loss or damage of the entries.

Will make every effort to return artwork safely to the teachers and to winning students. It is the student's responsibility to inform the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service of any change in address.

Reserves the exclusive right to authorize the reproduction of the National First Place winning design, including stamps and various licensed products and to photograph the winning stamp design without compensation to the student. The winning artist will provide autographs without charge to the public or Federal Government. Autographs will be requested on Junior Duck Stamps and Junior Duck Stamp products.

Has the right to use the student names for promotional purposes without compensation to the student.

Has the right to destroy unclaimed artwork after one year.

Has the right to disqualify any entry submitted into the Junior Duck Stamp Competition that has the appearance of a plagiarized submission.

A Junior Duck Stamp Curriculum Guide is available to be downloaded at: duckstamps.fws.gov or by emailing a request that includes your name and address to: john_fisher@fws.gov. If you do not have access to the Internet, simply call the Federal Duck Stamp Office at 703/358 2000.

Before photocopying and distributing the entry form to students, fill out school and press information — print clearly.

TEACHERS, be sure to look at your students' references to determine that the work they are submitting is their own original work of art and not a copy of someone else's work (original art or photos). Assume responsibility for making the ethics of art competitions known to students and refuse to approve the student's entry which carries any doubt as to its authenticity and originality. Copyright laws apply to intellectual property. Your signature on the entry form is confirmation of the originality of the student's entry. The U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service reserves the right to disqualify any entry that is questionable as to its authenticity.

Important Fact

The unauthorized use of the work of another person and representation of it as your own is plagiarism. Plagiarism is a crime punishable by law and grounds for disqualification by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service!
