

played. Masters of ceremonies included Dan Rather, Peter Jennings, Mike Wallace and Leslie Stahl. Variety magazine reported that the 1,100 guests were treated to a martini bar and a rolling cigar station.

"The goal was to raise (our) profile among high-dollar donors," Conservancy spokesman Mike Horak said in a statement. And it paid off: $1.8 million was raised.

Salaries gobble up money raised, too. In 1999, top salaries at the 10 largest environmental groups averaged $235,918, according to IRS tax forms. By contrast, the president of Habitat for Humanity, International—which builds homes for the poor—earned $62,843. At Mothers Against Drunk Driving, the president made $69,570.

Among environmental groups, Ducks Unlimited paid its leader the most: $346,882.

"Those salaries are obscene," said Martin Litton, a former Sierra Club board member, who worked tirelessly over a half-century to help bring about the creation of Redwoods National Park in 1968 and Sequoia National Monument last year. Litton did it for free.

"There should be sacrifice in serving the environment," he said.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT AGREEMENT—S. 1

Mr. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate resume consideration of S. 1 at 2 o'clock on Monday, and any votes ordered with respect to that legislation occur in a stacked sequence Tuesday morning, with 2 minutes prior to each vote for explanation.

I further ask unanimous consent, as in executive session, that the Senate proceed to executive session at 4 p.m.

on Monday for consideration of the Bolton nomination, under the same terms as outlined in the consent agreement of May 3, 2001.

Also as in executive session, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate resumes in session on Tuesday at 9:30, the Senate resume executive session, that there be 45 minutes remaining for debate on the Bolton nomination, to be equally divided between the chairman and ranking minority member of the Foreign Relations Committee and Senator DORGAN, and a vote occur on the confirmation of Mr. Bolton at 10:15 on Tuesday. That is to be followed by a stacked sequence of votes ordered from Friday and Monday's session of the Senate with respect to the education bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ORDERS FOR MONDAY, MAY 7, 2001

Mr. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, on behalf of the leader, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it adjourn until the hour of 1 p.m. on Monday, May 7. I further ask consent that on Monday, immediately following the prayer, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, the morning hour be deemed expired, the time for the two leaders be reserved for their use later in the day, and the Senate begin a period of morning business until 2 p.m., with Senators speaking for up to 10 minutes each with the following exceptions: Senator MURKOWSKI, 1 to 1:30, Senator DURBIN or his designee, 1:30 to 2.

PROGRAM

Mr. MURKOWSKI. For the information of all Senators, the Senate will be in a period of morning business until 2 p.m. on Monday. Following the morning business, there will be 2 hours to resume consideration of the education reform bill. Amendments will be offered during that debate and any votes ordered will occur in the stacked sequence as under the previous order beginning at 10:15 a.m.

At 4 p.m. on Monday, the Senate will begin consideration of the nomination of John R. Bolton to be Under Secretary of State for Arms Control and International Security. There will be up to 3 hours of debate on his nomination on Monday, with an additional 45 minutes for debate on Tuesday prior to the vote on confirmation at 10:15 a.m.

Senators should expect several stacked votes on Tuesday morning beginning at 10:15.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL MONDAY MAY 7, 2001, at 1 P.M.

Mr. MURKOWSKI. If there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask unanimous consent the Senate stand in adjournment under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 3:20 p.m., adjourned until Monday, May 7, 2001, at 1 p.m.
