

Los Angeles. LOS ANGELES CENTRAL LIBRARY, 630 W. 5th St., 1925, Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue, architect; Lee Lawrie, sculptor. Reinforced concrete, 4 stories, modified rectangle, flat roof; central square, stepped tower with recessed vertical openings and capped with pyramidal roof with geometrical mosaic pattern and facade broken by simple projecting pilasters; projecting entrance bay with recessed archway surmounted by decorative relief and sculptured figures, 3-story central rotunda; interior richly decorated with mosaics, murals, and sculpture. Modernistic with Art Deco detailing. Municipal: HABS.