

I am adamantly opposed to the regulations proposed by the FCC. Leave Christian radio alone and go "regulate" the secular stations that pump filth and negativity into our children's heads. Better yet, do something about the filth on TV. Christian radio programs are good, and we don't need or want government interference.