	ORDER

Adopted: May 2, 2006 Released: May 19, 2006

By the Commission:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we grant 30 appeals of decisions by the Universal Service Administrative Company ("Administrator" or "USAC") denying 134 requests for funding from 96 participants in the schools and libraries universal service support mechanism on the grounds that they violated the Commission's competitive bidding rules. As explained below, we find that USAC improperly denied the requests for funding without sufficiently examining whether the Commission's rules were violated due to improper third-party participation in the applicants' competitive bidding processes, and remand the underlying applications associated with these appeals to USAC for further action consistent with this Order. In addition, we direct the Administrator to conduct further investigation and analysis prior to denying funding for suspected competitive bidding violations of the type addressed herein, and to provide applicants with an opportunity to demonstrate that they did not violate the Commission's competitive bidding rules. To ensure that the underlying applications are resolved expeditiously, we direct USAC to complete its review of each application (and issue an award or a denial based on a complete review and analysis) listed in the Appendix no later than 120 days from release of this Order.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Under the schools and libraries universal service support mechanism, eligible schools, libraries, and consortia that include eligible schools and libraries, apply for discounts for eligible telecommunications services, Internet access, and internal connections.<sup>2</sup> The applicant, after developing a technology plan, files the FCC Form 470 ("Form 470") with the Administrator to request discounted services.<sup>3</sup> The Form 470 is posted on USAC's website for at least 28 days, during which time interested service providers may submit bids to provide the requested services.<sup>4</sup> The applicant must consider all submitted bids prior to entering into a contract; price must be the primary factor in selecting a bid.<sup>5</sup> Under the Commission's competitive bidding rules, the service provider may not participate in the bidding process.<sup>6</sup> After entering into a contract for eligible services, the applicant files the FCC Form 471 ("Form 471").<sup>7</sup> USAC assigns a funding request number ("FRN") to each request for discounted services, and issues funding commitment decision letters ("FCDLs") approving or denying the requests for discounted services.

- 3. Among other things, USAC is responsible for administering the application process for the schools and libraries universal service support mechanism. Pursuant to this authority, USAC developed a procedure to detect applications that may be in violation of the Commission's competitive bidding rules by searching for similar language used in Form 470s filed by other schools, libraries, and consortia that selected the same service provider through their competitive bidding processes. This procedure, described by USAC as "pattern analysis," contemplates the possibility that a group of applicants, all with the same service provider, violated the competitive bidding rules.
- 4. The Commission has under consideration 30 appeals filed by parties that have requested funding for discounted services under the schools and libraries universal service support mechanism. Petitioners appeal decisions denying requests for funding from the schools and libraries universal service support mechanism due to a failure to comply with the Commission's competitive bidding rules, as identified by USAC's "pattern analysis" procedure. These 30 applicants had in total selected eight service providers. Many of these applicants are among the needlest schools and libraries in the country; we estimate that more than 75% of these applicants were eligible for a 90 percent discount on eligible services. We further estimate that these 30 appeals involve approximately $38 million in funding for 99 applicants for funding during Funding Years 2002-2004, and note that these funds have already been collected and held in reserve. Therefore, our actions taken in this Order should have minimal impact on the Universal Service Fund ("USF"). 12

&lt;sup>3</sup> If the technology plan has not been approved when the applicant files the Form 470, the applicant must certify that it understands that the technology plan must be approved prior to commencement of service. 47 C.F.R. § 54.504(b)(2)(vii).

&lt;sup>7</sup> This form is to request discounts on those services and it contains the discount calculation worksheet and the discount funding request. The Form 471 generally must be filed each time a school or library orders telecommunications services, Internet access, or internal connections. See 47 C.F.R. §§ 54.504, 54.511(c).

5. After identifying applications that incorporate similar language through its "pattern analysis" procedure, USAC typically informs applicants that "similarities in Forms 470 among applicants associated with this vendor indicate that the vendor was improperly involved in the competitive bidding and vendor selection process," and rejects the applicants' FRNs. Although the precise language may vary slightly, the record before us indicates that no other detail concerning a violation of Commission rules is provided to applicants. That is, USAC denied the applicants' requests for funding solely based on this pattern analysis procedure; the record does not indicate that USAC made any formal findings or gathered additional facts prior to denying the requests for funding, or that USAC identified any school-specific violations of our competitive bidding rules.

III. DISCUSSION

After reviewing the record, we grant the instant Requests for Review and remand them to USAC for further consideration. We conclude that USAC denied the requests for funding without sufficiently determining that the service providers improperly participated in the applicants' bidding processes. In short, USAC presumed that these schools violated the competitive bidding rules based on a review of another applicant's information, and without performing any applicant-specific evaluations. The "pattern analysis" procedure may be helpful to identify applications for further review to determine if the applicant violated our competitive bidding rules; however, the mere presence of similar language in Form 470s by different program participants ultimately selecting the same service provider is not sufficient evidence of a rule violation. Indeed, there are many legitimate reasons why applicants could have used similar language in their applications; for example, they may have used the same consultant, attended the same seminar or training program, or modeled their responses from the same website. 15 None of these legitimate reasons would support a finding that the school or library violated the competitive bidding rules. It appears from the record, however, that USAC never attempted to ascertain the reason for similar applications prior to denying funding based on its "pattern analysis" procedure or obtain additional information to determine whether the applicant violated the competitive bidding rules. In one group of denied Funding Year 2004 applications, for example, one of the "similarities" was the school identifier assigned by the state. <sup>16</sup> According to this petitioner, SEND Technologies, "USAC remained unaware that the similarities were easily explained and were not indicative of rule violations or &lt;sup>12</sup> See, e.g., Universal Service Administrative Company, Federal Universal Service Support Mechanisms Fund Size Projections for the Fourth Quarter 2005, dated August 2, 2005. With further investigation, as discussed in this Order, USAC can determine which of these applications should be granted and which involve violations of our competitive bidding rules. In addition, USAC will ascertain whether the relief sought by the applicant was in fact granted in a subsequent year, but the applicant neglected to withdraw the appeal.

impermissible service provider involvement."<sup>17</sup> In addition, the record reflects that USAC failed to identify the specific language in the Form 470s that it deemed "similar."<sup>18</sup> We agree with the Petitioners that without specific information to determine the basis for the denial, applicants cannot provide comprehensive responses to USAC's arguments.

- 7. For these reasons, we find that when USAC suspects that a service provider has improperly participated in an applicant's bidding process due to the results of its "pattern analysis" procedure, it is incumbent on USAC to conduct further investigation and analysis prior to denying funding. Specifically, USAC should review these applications fully, and should not issue summary denials of requests for funding solely because applications contain similar language. If an entity is able to demonstrate that it fully complied with all program rules and did not, for example, violate the Commission's competitive bidding rules, then USAC should not deny funding on the basis of the "pattern analysis" procedure. We therefore grant the Requests for Review listed in the Appendix attached to this Order and remand the underlying applications associated with these appeals to USAC for further action consistent with this Order. To ensure these issues are resolved expeditiously, we direct USAC to complete its review of the applications (and issue an award or a denial based on a complete review and analysis) listed in the Appendix no later than 120 days from release of this Order.
- 8. We recognize that some beneficiaries may have violated the competitive bidding rules and that shared facts may help uncover violations of our rules or waste, fraud, and abuse committed by other beneficiaries. Indeed, we recognize the utility of USAC's pattern analysis of helping to identify malfeasance. A pattern analysis alone, however, does not determine that an applicant has violated program rules or engaged in waste, fraud, or abuse. Based on the existing program rules, USAC should not stop its review of an application and conclude that the applicant violated program rules (and then deny the funding request) solely because the application shares some language with that of another applicant who selected the same service provider. Instead, USAC should continue its evaluation to determine whether funding is warranted and whether the applicants violated program rules, including those concerns initially identified through the "pattern analysis" process. As part of its review, USAC may request that applicants submit documentation establishing the source of the language that is similar to that found in other applications. Upon completing its review, if USAC finds that the application complies with all applicable program rules and that USF funding is warranted, it should authorize funding. We recognize that, after USAC completes its application review procedures for the appeals identified in this Order, it may conclude that funding is not warranted and deny the request.

&lt;sup>19</sup> During the application review process, USAC may request additional information from applicants. See Request for Review of the Decision of the Universal Service Administrator by Nefesh Academy, Federal-State Joint Board on Universal Service, Changes to the Board of Directors of the National Exchange Carrier Association, Inc., File No. SLD-27881, CC Dockets No. 95-45 and 97-21, Order, DA 99-2284, para. 3 (Com. Car. Bur., rel. Oct. 22, 1999) ("Nefesh Academy Order"). To ensure that the application review process for the schools and libraries program is not unduly delayed, USAC requires applicants to supply information within a reasonable time period or risk denial of the funding request. Nefesh Academy Order at para. 3.

&lt;sup>20</sup> We note, however, that many of the pending appeals addressed in this Order date from Funding Year 2002, and that, due to the passage of time, such evidence may no longer be available. For example, the employees who prepared the Form 470 may have left the school system since the application was filed. USAC should look at the totality of the circumstances, including an explanation as to why evidence may no longer be available. On a going-forward basis, we expect that applicants will have better documentation to support their applications. See Schools and Libraries Universal Service Support Mechanism, CC Docket No. 02-6, Fifth Report and Order and Order, 19 FCC Rcd 15808, 15823-24, para. 47 (requiring applicants and service providers to retain all records related to the application for, receipt and delivery of discounted services for a period of five years after the last day of service delivered for a particular funding year).
