Smoking and Tobacco Control Monograph 18  http://cancercontrol.cancer.gov/tcrb/monographs/18/index.html            The Initiative on the Study and Implementation of Systems (ISIS), sponsored by the National Cancer Institute, has supported an exploration of four elements of systems approaches to improving tobacco control: systems organizing, system dynamics, system networks, and systems knowledge. Beginning with the identification of key stakeholder groups—practitioners, leaders, advocates, and researchers—ISIS has worked to identify characteristics, apparent and subtle, that shape, and are shaped by, the characteristics of the interactions and networks both within and among stakeholder groups; the structure of the feedback loops involved in fostering synergy; and the role of learning as an integral feature of the systems at play. The lessons of that exploration are presented in this monograph as potential insights for the ways organization, management, adaptation, and learning might be enhanced for tobacco control and, by reflection, for work in other areas. 4/2007            Order Limit: 3	T071

- Center for Cancer Research, Explore, Discover, Translate, Vol. 2 T069
Center for Cancer Research: Explore, Discover, Translate is a two-volume progress report of the National Cancer Institute's Center for Cancer Research (CCR). Target audiences include advocacy groups, media covering medical research, science educators, and potential post-doctoral scientists and clinical fellows. The booklet showcases CCR's cutting edge basic and translational research and highlights examples of its patient-focused pursuit of excellence in clinical research as well. The stories are chosen to illustrate the unique culture, vision, and values CCR researchers bring to the oncology research community. From development of a vaccine that prevents cervical cancer to technology that can sift genomic contents from a single cancer cell, commitment to progress against cancer unfolds. CCR's unique ability to shift focus, funds, talent, and technology as needed to achieve breakthroughs underscores each milestone. Volume 2 10/2006

<http://deainfo.nci.nih.gov/advisory/pcp/YakamaBook.pdf>
The President's Cancer Panel, a three-member advisory group that oversees the National Cancer Program, reports annually to the President of the U.S. on barriers to the program's execution. "Facing Cancer in Indian Country: The Yakama Nation and Pacific Northwest Tribes", contains the findings and recommendations of the Panel after a two-day meeting in July 2002. The meeting was held at the invitation of a Yakama tribal elder on the reservation of the Confederated Tribes and Bands of the Yakama Nation in Washington State. The Panel's then-chairman, Dr. Harold P. Freeman, heard from cancer survivors and caregivers from Yakama and several other northwest tribes. Other speakers included Native and non-Native health care and social services providers; officials of the Indian Health Service (IHS); community epidemiologists and researchers; and advocates. The report cites studies showing during the past 30 years Native American cancer incidence and mortality rates have been increasing, and that American Indian and Alaskan Native cancer survival rates are the lowest of any ethnic group. 12/2003

How to place an order

NCI publications are free. However, there is a shipping and handling fee of 15 cents per copy for orders of more than 20 items (bulk orders). To cover the basic accounting costs associated with processing payments for bulk orders, NCI requires an $8 minimum charge.

To ensure that publications are available to all requesters, we may set limits on the maximum number of copies that may be ordered. The number of copies of an individual title that may be ordered depends on the supply in our inventory.

Orders for NCI publications can be placed by Internet, phone or TTY, mail, and fax.

Internet

Visit the NCI Publications Locator Web site at <http://cancer.gov/publications> to order items 24 hours a day.

Phone

Call 1-800-4-CANCER (1-800-422-6237) and select the option to order publications. Open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., local time.

TTY

Contact the Publications Ordering Service at 1-800-332-8615, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., local time.

Mail

Complete the Publication Order Form and mail to:

National Cancer Institute
Publications Ordering Service
P.O. Box 24128
Baltimore, MD 21227

Fax

Fax your order form and payment information to the Publications Ordering Service at 301-330-7968.

Shipping to non-U.S. addresses: It is NCI policy to send up to five publications free to individuals or organizations outside of the United States. All foreign orders for six or more publications are charged actual shipping costs. Foreign orders are limited to 100 total copies, based on current inventory availability. To place an order to a non-U.S. address, please contact the Publications Ordering Service by mail or fax.

PUBLICATIONS ORDER FORM

The first 20 copies of the entire order will be sent free of shipping and handling charges. Orders exceeding 20 total copies are considered bulk orders and will be charged a shipping and handling fee. All orders must be prepaid.

Free and bulk orders can be placed on the NCI Publications Locator Web site at <http://www.cancer.gov/publications>. Or, list the inventory number, title, and quantity of each item in the spaces provided below. If you run out of room, just attach another piece of paper with the remainder of your order. To ensure that materials are available to all requesters, NCI has set limits on the maximum number of copies that may be ordered by any one requester each month on a title-by-title basis. If you are requesting a large quantity of a title, please verify availability by calling 1-800-4-CANCER (1-800-422-6237) and selecting the option to order publications.
