

Owner John Miller founded Oxbow Pet Products on a tradition of agricultural development of premium nutritional hay products. Today, the company is a leader in small animal nutrition, with an internationally-recognized consumer brand and many loyal customers.

Oxbow Pet Products' timothy hay-based formulas pioneered a world-wide revolution in small animal nutrition with superior nutrients for pet herbivores. Top exotic veterinarians recommend them. In addition the OXProLine, Oxbow's line of veterinarian-referred products, has set the industry standard for care of small pets recovering from illness or injury.

Oxbow is proud to present the newest additions to our line of hays, fortified feeds, treats and supplements- Botanical Hay and Healthy Handfuls. Oxbow's Botanical Hay unites our popular Western Timothy Hay with a rich array of fragrant herbs providing a deliciously fun mealtime experience. Healthy Handfuls is a complete, stabilized feed with optimally-balanced nutrients that help maintain proper nutrition, weight, digestive function, dental health and quality of life for active pocket pets.

To learn more about our full line of premium small animal nutrition, visit our booth, #14, in the U.S. Pavilion at Zoomark International. Further information about Oxbow Pet Products can be found at www.oxbowhay.com.

The Oxbow difference can be found not only in decades of tradition and a solid scientific base of knowledge about the needs of small animals, but also in a willingness to share that knowledge with pet owners, store owners, distributors and pet professionals for the good of the industry and the animals.
