Technical Assistance for Small Business Owners

With support from the Mayor's Office of Business and Economic Development of San Francisco, this program delivers targeted small business technical assistance to primarily underserved low income Asian Americans who aspire to either start up or expand their small businesses. Through one-on-one technical assistance, business development seminars and micro-enterprise loans, this program makes viable and competitive small businesses that will fuel the community asset building and reinvestment processes in Northeast's targeted and distressed neighborhoods across the city.
