

Thomson. WATSON, THOMAS E., HOUSE, 310 Lumpkin St., c. 1875. Frame, clapboarding; 2 1/2 stories, L-shaped, gabled roof with wall dormers and bargeboards, interior chimneys, reentrant corner entrances each with transom, 1-story L-shaped porch, cornerboards, bracketed boxed cornice, rear wing; alterations, 1880. Eastlake elements. Home (1880-1904) of Tom Watson, Populist Party leader and U.S. Congressman and Senator, whose advocacy of a united front of white and black farmers against industrialist interests turned to a bitter reactionaryism including attacks on minority groups, following his defeats as the Populists's vice-presidential (1896) and presidential (1904, 1908) candidate. Private; not accessible to the public.
