Dear FCC:

Regarding the proposed XM & Sirius satellite radio merger, not only do I fully support it and encourage you to approve it as well, but I would encourage you to disregard the NABs attempt to flood you with 'form letters' to show increased support opposing the merger.

In fact I'd even encourage you to ignore any "form letters" which are in support or opposition to the merger.

The sources don't hold much credibility and also do not show much effort on the part of the person sending it. I would only allow comments which are free form submitted to you. That shows a little more integrity and shows more genuine support of either side, regardless of whether it's support or opposition to the merger.

Sincerely,

Neil Devlin
