Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

My husband and I have pretty good credit. I pay my bills on time; however, nothing makes me madder than going to pay your bill via internet the day or two before the bill is due and some credit companies showing it will post to my account three days later. WHY?! Most other companies you can pay the same day it will post that day or the next. With the technology today, it seems like a scam to me to get late fees

Sincerely,

Mrs. Suzette Davis
