

Thank You!

Volunteers & Contributors

It's hard to imagine how we'd run the Campbell Creek Science Center or take care of the trails of Campbell Tract without the dedication and generosity of our many volunteers and contributors. During 2006 they planted trees and shrubs, built a new trail, taught everything from energy and GPS to animal adaptations and archaeology, helped with biological inventories, pulled weeds, conducted ski clinics, and contributed food and door prizes.

We thank them for sharing their talents and time, for helping people of all ages better understand the natural world around them, for enhancing recreational opportunities on Campbell Tract, and for helping make this public land a better place for all who visit.
