

East Lansing. EUSTACE HALL (HORTICULTURAL LABORATORY BUILDING), Michigan State University campus, 1888. Brick, 2 ½ stories, modified rectangle, gabled roof, projecting gabled front shingled section with 2-story corner turret and segmental arched double-door entrance set under decorative brick arch, spiral staircase in tower. Designed by eminent horticulturist Liberty Hyde Batley, alumnus and professor at Michigan Agricultural College, now Michigan State University; served original purpose until 1921, now headquarters for the Honors College. State.