Subject: Keep inadequately treated sewage out of our waters

Docket # OW-2003-0025
Environmental Protection Agency, Water Docket

Dear Administrator Leavitt and EPA staff,

I urge you to drop the proposed policy that would allow sewage treatment plants to routinely discharge inadequately treated sewage during rain events. The proposed policy would increase the amount of bacteria, viruses and parasites discharged into the nation's recreational waters and drinking water supplies.

This policy of being a "little polluted "strikes me as being a "little pregnant". I am simply stunned at what this administration is allowing to be undone in terms of public health and the environment.

Don't you people breath, eat, or drink? You administrate like you are immune to the same illnesses and discomforts that everyone else is. Step outside the beltway and take a reality check. Have you no conscience??
