

I am firmly against the TSA's proposed "Secure Flight Plan." This rulemaking is unAmerican and imposes a "police state" mentality on those who fly. If this kind of rule-making continues, no one will fly anymore because they don't to be subjected to unaccountable bureaucracy invading their privacy and treating them like criminals. Under the "Secure Flight Plan" non-government employees may demand personal information from passengers and deny boarding, with no accountability. The passenger has no way to determine how or why they have been put on a watch list and has no legal recourse. It is sad day when Americans can no longer cherish their freedom, but must instead submit to a faceless and unaccountable bureaucracy. Even with the best of intentions, there have been numerous problems with the Department of Homeland Security and the TSA treating law-abiding citizens like criminals. We do not need another layer of bureaucracy. Please say no to the "Secure Flight Plan."
