Ripple effect of global warming

Barbara Litzlbeck

Nov 8, 05 11:24am

Human health and the ecosystems are increasingly threatened by climate change, warns a new study jointly released by three leading environmental organisations at the United Nations last week.

Climate Change Futures, by the Centre for Health and the Global Environment at Harvard Medical School, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and Swiss Re, a private health insurance company based in Switzerland, says that adverse health impacts are likely to cause severe economic consequences.

- ▶ Threat to human health
- ▶ Coral reef decline
