

Our names are Tulio Gagot and Pamela Godines and we are Silver producers in the Quixtar Corporation. We are writing this brief letter in regards to the proposed "Trade Regulation Rule on Business Opportunities."

Quixtar is a first class company and we always give people the proper facts and credibility based upon our business model. There are places all over the web as well as credible sources and companies that Quixtar deals with that people can do there due diligence with. I don't think the Quixtar Corporation has to be linked in with all of the scams, pyramids, and other fraud companies that are out there. It should not take a professional seven days to evaluate this business for this small of an investment; especially when the corporation offers a six month one hundred percent money back guarantee as well. We always let our people know about the money back guarantee which does set people at ease and they understand that there is no risk when they get started with our business team.

Also, the proposal to call ten contacts in the area before a new person gets started is not fair for people in two ways: the first way is that I do not think that business owners and people that get registered in the business would like giving out their personal information to have random people call them like a solicitor. I know my Fiancé and I do not need any random phone calls from people we do not know coming to our house. The other reason is that different people build this at different paces and they have different feelings about the business as well. Some people who don't do any work expect results. Since it is not a get rich quick scheme, some people get in and they don't do any work and then put the blame on someone else for their laziness. It is not fair to have to call one of those people who expected something for nothing and have to give their feedback to one of my new prospects that is willing to work to succeed in the business. So it's just not fair from both angles. Nothing in life comes for free and I am glad this business takes a lot of work to make an extra $150,000 a year. We let people know that it is a 2-5 year plan and not a 2-5 day plan which is what turned me on to the business.

We applaud your goals in getting things accomplished to eliminate scams, frauds, and pyramids but some of your propositions are actually going to hurt the real businesses out there that enhance free enterprise in this country. Thank you for you time.
