

Kapapa Island. KAPAPA ISLAND COMPLEX, In Kaneohe Bay, Prehistoric. Evidence of large fishing shrine or ko 'a, roughly rectangular, constructed of native coral, petrified sand, and small chunks of basalt brought to the island by fishermen. Existence of shrine indicates island was once used extensively by the ancient Hawaiians, perhaps as a fishing station in Kaneohe Bay. State.