Dear Friend,

Seven years have passed, but the attacks of September 11, 2001 remain etched in the minds of the American people. Never before have we seen such terror on our own soil.

Today my thoughts and prayers are with the families of those who lost their lives that day.

We honor the heroic actions of first responders, law enforcement personnel, volunteers, and others who aided the innocent victims and, in so doing, bravely risked and often sacrificed their own lives.

We pay tribute to the courageous servicemen and women who fought and continue to fight in the wars that followed the 9-11 attacks.

And we strive to regain the national unity that defined the days, weeks, and months that followed.

As a nation, we must remain vigilant in defeating terrorism around the world while preserving the ideals that make our country so great—liberty and justice.

Sincerely,

Phil Hare
Member of Congress
