SUBJECT: Conversation regarding Lincoln County's supplemental agreement with Nevada Power.

SUMMARY

Referred to us by Commissioner Tommy Rowe. Supplied power information for Lincoln County: All power in the county comes from the Hoover Dam (full allocation). Certain months a year, dam levels are low, so there is a supplemental agreement in place with Nevada Power Company to supply energy during those periods. There is no seasonal trend to low dam levels, but the Colorado River Commission warns Lincoln county when it will happen so there is time to plan with Nevada Power Company. Power is available anytime the county needs it, and increase in demand can be covered by this agreement in the short term. In the long-term, the county could buy power on the marketplace, but is also looking in buying into the IPP coal-fired plant at Delta. This would be running by 2010 or 2011, and the county would buy 15 mega watts of capacity. Demand has been pretty steady in Lincoln county, growth by only 1 or 2% per year. The company supplies about 67 million kilowatt hours to about 990 customers per year.
