

Whom it may concern:

This letter illustrates why I am in favor of a complete withdrawal from using Nevada or any other place as a major radioactive dumping location & reasons why are numerous.

1 [First, at this point in time with our technological advancements, nuclear energy is not a necessary source of our electrical needs, not that it ever was, nor is it safe. Solar, wind, and other renewable energy sources are a safer way to preserve the beauty of everything on this planet, that eludes human lives. This would eliminate all potential risks that the Yucca Mt. Project offers.

Yet if at this moment in time, all nuclear power plants were closed, there still remains the problem of what to do with all the waste from previous years. Scientists have long noted that these cores won't be as hot in a hundred years, and suggest it would be better to leave them in the current cooling tanks, making sure these areas are protected against any problems. Many brilliant people with compassionate hearts may have safer ways of what to do with this stuff within a hundred years.

There are so many obvious problems with any and all of the Project, each day more truths seem to be coming out that this is just not a good move for the people or the environment.

Many scientists and other qualified individuals dedicated to preserving and promoting a healthy environment that will sustain a healthy future have been coming together talking about what can be done, what needs to be done. Such examples are to leave spent cores where they are, better insulate places where the cores are already cooling down, cleaning up these places, and prevent any contamination through better methods. Finally, there won't be any more overcrowding in these pools since no nuclear plants would be in production. This last point is important.

Positive responses honoring universal laws nurture a healthy environment for all. ]

2 [and finally, documentation proves that Yucca Mountain belongs to the Western Shoshone, so

The U.S. Government has no legal right to do anything to or put anything on this land, especially doing something that could harm these people dedicated to respecting this land. The U.S. Government has the opportunity to be respectful to all people, and respectful to the land that provides us with all that we need.]

Please honor our planet, and all the diversity that is here.

Sincerely,

Karen Green
