

5622 '00 JUN -1 P4:40

5/24/2000

I would like to comment on the FDA's plans to consider making drugs available without prescription for the first time. Birth control pills and other chemical "contraceptives" should never be made available over the counter. These drugs are too dangerous and cause too many side effects for women, and young teens in particular, to have them available without a doctor's prescription. Thank you for considering my opinion on this matter.
Veronica Sheehan

OON-1256

CH 46