PREFACE

Introduction

The laws, codes and rules governing bankruptcy procedures are complicated and intricate in detail. This guide is not intended to serve as a “How To” manual, nor is it intended to advise you of your legal rights or responsibilities under current bankruptcy law. The purpose of this guide is to serve as a possible source to answer frequently asked questions posed to this court by debtors filing bankruptcy without the assistance of legal counsel (pro-se). Please Note: Court employees are prohibited by law from giving any legal advice.

Available Bankruptcy Chapters

An individual may file a chapter 7, 11, 12 or 13 case.

- Chapter 7: Liquidation

Chapter 7 is the most common and is the type of bankruptcy with which most people are familiar. A trustee is appointed in a chapter 7 for the purpose of taking possession of or selling property of which is not exempt under federal or state law. The trustee then pays the proceeds to creditors. Anyone thinking of filing a chapter 7 case should learn which types of property can be exempted under state and federal law.

- Chapter 11: Reorganization

Chapter 11 is used primarily by operating businesses and is almost never used by an individual consumer debtor. A chapter 11 case is much more complicated and much more expensive than the other types of bankruptcy. The filing fee alone is $1039.00.

- Chapter 12: Adjustment of Debts of a Family Farmer or Fisherman

Chapter 12 is similar to chapter 13 but is designed for and is only available to family farmers or fisherman.

- Chapter 13: Adjustment of Debts of an Individual with Regular Income

Chapter 13 permits debtors who have a regular source of income to file a plan for payment of some or all of their debts over a court approved period of time. Chapter 13 is often used to cure defaults on mortgages in order to save a house, and it may be used to pay some debts which are not dischargeable under chapter 7. When payments under the plan are completed, the debtor receives a discharge of the balance of the pre-petition debts.

There is more detailed information available on how each of the chapters in bankruptcy works on the court’s web site at www.miwb.uscourts.gov.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Is it possible to file a bankruptcy case without an attorney?

Yes. Current law permits individuals to file their own cases and to represent their own interests in bankruptcy proceedings. However, it may not be wise to do so. Any bankruptcy case can become a complicated matter requiring both knowledge of the law and experience before the court to successfully complete. In order to fill out the forms required to file a case, you will need to know (among other things) the differences between the types of bankruptcies which can be filed, the types of exemptions which can be taken and the differences between secured and unsecured debts. As a case progresses through the court, many other areas of law and knowledge may be involved. Decisions made without an understanding of basic bankruptcy law can have serious consequences including the loss of property and legal rights. Only an attorney may file a bankruptcy for a partnership or corporation - even if the individual is the sole owner or is the managing partner.

Can the Bankruptcy Court help me?

The staff of the court is prohibited from giving legal advice. This means that we cannot assist you in completing forms or deciding the type of bankruptcy you should file. If you decide to file a bankruptcy case without an attorney, you will be on your own. The court will expect you to follow the same rules and procedures as attorneys are required to follow.

How do I know if a Credit Counseling Agency has been certified by the United States Trustee?

The court provides a link to the United States Trustee's web site which maintains a listing of approved Credit Counseling Agencies and Financial Management Courses. To obtain this information please visit the court's web site at www.miwb.uscourts.gov. A list may also be obtained from the United States Trustee's web site at www.usdoj.gov.

Where can I get the forms?

You have two options: 1) Retrieve the forms free of charge from the court's web site: www.miwb.uscourts.gov. 2) Office supply stores often sell legal forms. These stores stock packages of bankruptcy forms which include the petition, schedules and other forms necessary to file a case. However, these packages do not contain several forms which are required by the court. The court does not stock or sell the petition, schedules or the statement of affairs. We can supply the local forms which are needed. The official bankruptcy forms and the local forms can be accessed on the court's website at www.miwb.uscourts.gov. Many documents and pleadings used frequently in bankruptcy cases must be created by the debtors and are not printed or sold.

Are there any sources of free legal assistance?

Yes, but not to everyone. Some Legal Aid offices will represent persons who meet their income guidelines. Most do not handle bankruptcy cases on a regular basis. Legal Aid offices give legal advice and assistance only to persons who are accepted as clients. Many cities have a Lawyer Referral Service which is operated by the local bar association. This service will set up an appointment with an attorney for a person who is considering bankruptcy for a minimal charge. This appointment would give you a chance to discuss your specific problems with an experienced attorney who might give you valuable advice on whether bankruptcy is necessary, and if so, which chapter would be best. If you cannot find the number of a local Lawyer Referral Service, call 1-800-968-0738 for information.

How are creditors notified of the bankruptcy?

When a bankruptcy is filed, the debtor gives the court a mailing matrix which is used by the court to notify creditors of the filing of the bankruptcy. A notice of commencement is mailed by the court, which informs creditors of the date for the meeting of creditors. Instructions for preparation of this matrix are included in this packet as exhibit A.

When can I expect to receive my discharge?

- Chapter 7: In a chapter 7 case, all debts which can be discharged, will be discharged approximately four months from the time the case is filed. Official form 23 must be filed with the court within 45 days after the first date set for the meeting of creditors. Failure to file the certification will result in the case being closed without an entry of discharge. Please see exhibit B.
- Chapter 13: In a chapter 13 case, a discharge will be issued upon successful completion of the plan. Official form 23 must be filed no later than the last payment made by the debtor as required by the plan or the filing of a motion for entry of a discharge pursuant to §1328(b). Failure to file the certification will result in the case being closed without an entry of discharge. Please see exhibit B.

Will the bankruptcy affect my credit rating?

Yes. The record of your bankruptcy may appear on your credit report for as long as 10 years after the date on which the bankruptcy was filed. It may be very difficult to borrow money as long as this information appears on the report. Please review The Fair Credit Reporting Act information listed below:

The Fair Credit Reporting Act

The Fair Credit Reporting Act, 6 U.S.C. section 605, is the law that controls credit reporting agencies. The law states that credit reporting agencies may not report a bankruptcy case on a person's credit report after ten years from the date the bankruptcy case is filed. Other bad credit information is removed after seven years. The larger credit reporting agencies belong to an organization called the Associated Credit Bureaus. The policy of the Associated Credit Bureau is to remove Chapter 11 and Chapter 13 cases from the credit report after seven years to encourage debtors to file under these chapters. You may want to contact the Federal Trade Commission, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Education Division, Washington, D.C. 20580, or telephone them at (202) 326-2222 and request the publications "How to Dispute Credit Reporting Errors" and "Fair Credit Reporting".

What if I can't afford to pay the full filing fee at the time of filing bankruptcy? Can I pay in installments?

Rule 1006 does allow for the payment of the filing fee in installments. An application to pay filing fee in installments can be filed with the bankruptcy petition and approved by the Court. The total number of payments or installments shall not exceed four, and the final installment must be paid within 120 days of the filing of the petition. Please see exhibit C.

What if I can't afford to pay the filing fee in installments?

First, you should be aware that the ability to proceed In Forma Pauperis is available only in Chapter 7 cases. Secondly, IFP status is available only to a Chapter 7 individual debtor who: (a) has income less than 150 percent of the poverty guidelines last published by the United States Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) applicable to a family of the size involved; and (b) is unable to pay that fee in installments. Requests to proceed IFP must be filed, using the Official Fee Waiver Application Form, at the same time as the petition. A copy of the form is displayed in exhibit D. This application will be approved or denied by the judge presiding over your case.

Anything else?

The bankruptcy process requires debtors to honestly disclose a great deal of information. Severe penalties are imposed on debtors who refuse to cooperate with the trustee or the court. Those who are dishonest in disclosing necessary information may face federal criminal prosecution. Actions taken by a debtor to hide assets or to transfer property to friends or relatives may result in either a denial of the debtor's discharge or attempts by the trustee to recover the property for creditors. Attempts to hide property from the trustee may also result in a federal criminal prosecution. Do not file a bankruptcy case unless you plan to be totally open and honest about all aspects of your finances.

You may want to consult with an attorney for further explanation, including how bankruptcy laws and rules relate to your specific case.

CREDITOR MATRIX GUIDELINES

The following instructions will guide you to correctly format a creditor matrix and save it as a .txt file.

A creditor matrix contains each creditor's name and mailing address. This information is used for noticing and also for claims information when applicable. The creditor matrix must be in an ASCII file format with an appropriate text extension such as .txt before it can be successfully uploaded into the CM/ECF system. (If you have access to Notepad, it will automatically save matrices in .txt format).

- There must be at least one space between the case number and the first creditor entered.
- The name and address of each creditor cannot be more than 5 lines. If a record is more than 5 lines, the 6th line will be combined with line 5 and the 7th or 8th lines will be truncated.
- Each line may contain no more than 40 characters including blanks.
- Names and addresses should be left justified.
- Spaces in the first position of a line will cause an exception report for that creditor record.
- Special characters such as ~, ½ or ^ will cause problems. The #, C/O and & characters have not been reported to cause errors.
- Account numbers or "attention" lines should be placed on the second line of the name/address.
- City, state and ZIP code must be on the last line.
- Nine digit ZIP codes must be typed with a hyphen separating the two groups of digits.
- All states must be two-letter abbreviations.
- Each creditor must be separated by at least one blank line.
- Do not include page numbers, headers, footers, etc.

APPLICATION FOR WAIVER OF THE CHAPTER 7 FILING FEE FOR INDIVIDUALS WHO CANNOT PAY THE FILING FEE
IN FULL OR IN INSTALLMENTS

The court fee for filing a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code is $299.

If you cannot afford to pay the full fee at the time of filing, you may apply to pay the fee in installments. A form, which is available from the bankruptcy clerk's office, must be completed to make that application. If your application to pay in installments is approved, you will be permitted to file your petition, completing payment of the fee over the course of four to six months.

If you cannot afford to pay the fee either in full at the time of filing or in installments, then you may request a waiver of the filing fee by completing this application and filing it with the Clerk of Court. A judge will decide whether you have to pay the fee. By law, the judge may waive the fee only if your income is less than 150 percent of the official poverty line applicable to your family size and you are unable to pay the fee in installments. You may obtain information about the poverty guidelines at www.uscourts.gov or in the bankruptcy clerk's office.

Required information. Complete all items in the application, and attach requested schedules. Then sign the application on the last page. If you and your spouse are filing a joint bankruptcy petition, you both must provide information as requested and sign the application.
