General Comment:Our produce should not be altered by irradiation processes.
The food supply for the American public should remain as nature provides as much as is feasible.

My parents grew a garden annually. We washed the produce with water only. I do not recall ever being sickened by fresh produce. The benefits far outweigh the deficits.

Please reconsider the mandate to sterilize the produce.

Sincerely,
John M. Martin
