

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

June 8, 1999

H.R. 1655 Department of Energy Research, Development, and Demonstration Authorization Act of 1999

As ordered reported by the House Committee on Science on May 25, 1999

SUMMARY

H.R. 1655 would authorize appropriations for certain civilian research and development (R&D) programs at the Department of Energy (DOE) for fiscal years 2000 and 2001. It would specify authorizations for DOE's basic research programs and for the department's R&D on solar and renewable energy, nuclear power, fossil energy, and energy conservation. In addition, the bill would impose various conditions on the expenditure of the funds, including limitations on funding for the Spallation Neutron Source, the International Thermonuclear Experimental Reactor, the High Performance Computing and Communications program, and other projects and activities. The bill also would require that certain contracts and grants be awarded on a competitive basis.

CBO estimates that appropriation of the specified amounts would result in additional discretionary spending of $8.2 billion over the 2000-2004 period. H.R. 1655 would not affect direct spending or receipts; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply. H.R. 1655 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

ESTIMATED COST TO THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 1655 is shown in the following table. For the purposes of this estimate, CBO assumes that the amounts authorized by the bill will be appropriated by the start of each fiscal year and that outlays will follow the historical spending patterns for these activities. The costs of this legislation fall within budget functions 250 (general science, space, and technology) and 270 (energy).

a. The 1999 level is the amount appropriated for that year for the four accounts of DOE that fund the programs authorized by this bill. These accounts include some programs that are not covered by the authorizations in this bill. Of the amounts appropriated for 1999, about $4,046 million was provided for the programs authorized by H.R. 1655.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO CONSIDERATIONS: None.

ESTIMATED IMPACT ON STATE, LOCAL, AND TRIBAL GOVERNMENTS

H.R. 1655 contains no intergovernmental mandates as defined in UMRA and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments. Currently, about $600 million of the research and development budgets of the programs affected by this bill goes to universities, some of which are funded by states.

ESTIMATED IMPACT ON THE PRIVATE SECTOR

This bill contains no new private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA.
